COOLIDGE PLAN

Reply Will Declare That It Is Impossible To Take Question Out of Hands of League.

U. S.-BRITISH PACT
ON CRUISERS SEEN

Proposal of President May Result in Large Increase in American Ship Building.

Paris, February 14.—(AP)—President Coolidge's proposal for complementary naval disarmament distinct from the general scheme under consideration by the League of Nations virtually will be rejected by the French reply, it is understood in the highest authority.

The French government's reply will avoid discussion of the merits of the question as raised by the Coolidge note, will confine itself to discussion of procedure and will conclude by stating that it is impossible to take the question out of the hands of the league.

Full sympathy with the object of the president's initiative will be expressed with the promise of hearty cooperation in any practical plan, but it will be pointed out that France, having cooperated in the preparation of a scheme for general disarmament in the league commission, cannot separate herself from that effort.

The note will consider the question as a matter of procedure. It will voice fullest sympathy with President Cool-idge's aims, while laying stress on the difficulties which must be overcome before such initiative can be given effect.

Opinion, as gathered from the press and political circles outside the government, remains positively hostile to any conference on naval disarmament apart from military disarmament.

U. S. SHIPBUILDING
INCREASE IS SEEN.

BY CHARLES M. MCANN.
London, February 14.—(United News)—President Coolidge's proposals for further naval disarmament among the powers may have the unexpected result of committing the United States to build more than double its present number of cruisers.

Authoritative opinion has been hardening upon the probable eventual result of the American memorandum, and arriving at rather startling conclusions.

Government experts are still studying the proposals, weighing carefully against fact and probability against probability before deciding upon the nature of Great Britain's reply.

Meanwhile opinion in well-informed and authoritative circles has been crys-tallizing into the following forecast:

1. Agreement regarding submarines and similar auxiliary craft will be scuttled by adverse continental opinion.

2. Great Britain and the United States will of necessity agree to an equal cruiser ratio.

3. Such an agreement would mean that the United States would gradually increase its cruiser strength to the British level, as there is every likelihood that the British admiralty will insist that Great Britain's present cruiser strength is the minimum necessary to patrol her waters.

The United States now has 10 cruisers built, 2 building and 3 authorized—a total of 15.

Great Britain has 40 cruisers built, 11 building and 3 authorized—a total of 54.

Should the United States agree to the present level, it would in course of time have to catch up a matter of 39 cruisers.

Read 'Em--And Smile!

You've often heard that expression—"Read 'em and weep," but it has no connection with advertising. When you read a Constitution advertisement you smile, denot-ing happiness.

You've found a worth-while offering made by one of Atlanta's merchants; it's just what you want, and the price is right.

One of the most pleasant hours of the day is that spent every morning by the purchasing agent of the home in reading the advertisements in The Constitution.

She does not read in the evening—that period is given over to today to amusement, recreation, diversion.

RESENT NEUTRAL ZONE PROPOSAL

Marshal Sun Is Preparing Official Statement Rejecting Suggestion Made By America.

BY JOHN POWELL.

(Copyright, 1927, by The Constitution and
The Chicago Tribune.)
Shanghai, February 14.—Marshal Sun Chuan-Pang's local representative announced this afternoon that Marshal Sun is absolutely opposed to Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg's scheme to make the international settlement of Shanghai a safe zone.

Marshal Sun is preparing an official statement in which he will declare that since he already controls the Shanghai area he resents the suggestion that he evacuate any part of it in order that a neutral zone can be created.

Intervention Likely.
Rejection of the American note, which sought to avert danger to foreigners in Shanghai and possible intervention by white troops in the Chinese civil war, was announced soon after news reached here of a complete break off of negotiations between the British and Cantonese at Hankow. This was declared due to the fact that Great Britain landed 1,500 troops here today.

Marshal Sun's opposition to the Kellogg scheme, combined with the open opposition of General Chang Tso-Lin, the Manchurian war lord, and the South China nationalists serves to make Chinese objections unanimous.

The nationalists are particularly offended because Secretary Kellogg addressed the proposal direct to General Chiang Kai-Shek instead of sending it to Eugene Chen, the nationalist foreign minister at Hankow.

According to a statement published in the Hankow Herald, American paper, the nationalists declare Mr. Kellogg's action in addressing the communication to General Chiang amounts to a breach as serious as if the nationalists addressed a diplomatic communication to General Charles F. Sum-

COOLIDGE INVITED TO ROADS MEETING

Outlook Good for President to Visit Savannah, Says Edwards; May Stop Off in Atlanta.

Washington, February 14.—(Special.)—A delegation of Georgia, Florida and Alabama members of congress left the white house today optimistic over the prospects of a visit to the south this summer by President Coolidge, whom they invited to attend the National Good Roads association meeting in Savannah in June.

The delegation was headed by Senator Harris and George and Representative Edwards, of Savannah, who were accompanied to the white house by Alabama and Florida members. If President Coolidge should decide to make the trip, it is possible that he might extend it further than to Savannah, possibly stopping off in Atlanta as well as other points, as he has often expressed a desire to make an extended visit to the south.

"The outlook is very good for the president to make the trip south this summer," Edwards said after the call upon the president, and others who joined in extending the invitation expressed similar optimism.

$75,230 Pledged as Workers Make Final Reports Monday Night and Celebrate Outcome.

RESULT IS HAILED AS GREAT VICTORY

Grady Monument and Adams Camp Called Atlanta's Finest Testimonials for Service to City.

Reporting a total of $75,230 in actual subscriptions to the Bert Adams Boy Scout camp fund, $230 more than the goal fixed at the outset, the 75 active campaign workers Monday night celebrated with a victory dinner what campaign leaders termed the first outstandingly successful campaign for a purely altruistic cause which has been conducted in Atlanta since the boom years immediately after the world war.

The victory was hailed by campaign leaders as an outstanding event in recent Atlanta history.

It was the most emphatic tribute to the personal popularity of a famous citizen which Atlanta has paid since the Henry Grady monument was built by popular subscription nearly a half century ago.

Complete Indorsement.
It was the first large campaign for funds for the exclusive use of the Boy Scouts since the Community Chest was instituted in Atlanta four years ago, demonstrating that the Boy Scouts command as substantial popular support now as they did prior to the organization of the chest.

The amount raised was more than three times as large as the annual appropriation from the Community Chest for maintenance of the Boy Scout organization and more than twice as much as was ever raised for the Boy

Rayne Gibson, president of the Community Chest, declared after the victory meeting that the result constituted, among other things, an un-challengeable popular indorsement of the Community Chest's decision four years ago to include the Boy Scouts in a strictly character-building and preventive social service agency, among the 35 agencies supported through the Chest.

C. Wardlaw, campaign chairman, called attention of the workers to the fact that the announced result of $75,230 represented that amount in actually signed, sealed and delivered subscriptions, without a single dollar added from tentative promises or from "underwriting" by campaign workers.

Charles D. Atkinson, one of the campaign workers who was a friend of the late Albert S. Adams and is the father of a Boy Scout, was designated officially to express the thanks of the workers.

Talking Movie
War Forecast
Over Patents

Suits Are Threatened as Five Companies Rush Work on Devices.

New York, February 14.—(AP)—Imminent possibility of a "talking movie war" was forecast in statements to The Associated Press today.

There are apparently four companies involved in patent dispute, with another company using a device based on a different theory on neutral territory.

The Radio Corporation of America, in association with the General Electric company and Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, is sponsor of the latest talking movie apparatus. The De Forest Phonoflms, the Fox-Case company and the Federal Telephone company of California each sponsors other devices operated on a more or less similar principle.

The Vitaphone company uses a record for the talking part of its talking movie instead of photographing sound on the movie films as the others do, and so is out of the controversy.

The California company recently announced that it had obtained basic patents which gave it exclusive rights to certain features of the filming of pictures and sound. The Radio corporation group promptly announced that it is "proceeding energetically" with its plans for commercial installation of its system.

Today officials of the De Forest company announced that it held basic patents antedating all others, and that it would "sue anybody anywhere who raises his head" to infringe those patents.

Two suits, W. E. Waddell, manager of the De Forest company, said, already had been filed and others would follow. The suits already begun are against the Fox-Case company and actions, it was said, "will inevitably" be started against the General Electric group.

Officials of the companies against which action is threatened declined to make any statement beyond their previous remarks that they were going ahead, each with its own device.

FIRST TILT WON BY GOVERNMENT
IN MANLEY CASE

Four Manley Aides Go on Trial in Connection With Crash of Bankers' Trust Company.

"DUMMY" OFFICIAL
RAPPED BY HAGER

More Than 300 Witnesses To Testify in Case Expected to Last Six Weeks.

Prosecution of four codefendant officials of the defunct Bankers' Trust company on charges of using the mails to defraud, got under way Monday in United States district court, three witnesses being called and heard during the opening session of the trial before Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley adjourned court until 10 o'clock this morning.

First blood in the trial of P. J.
Baker, A. J. Sasser, John D. Russell and L. R. Adams, the codefendants, was drawn by the government when District Attorney Hager secured an admission from the last witness of the day, George O. King, former assistant secretary of the Bankers' Trust company, that as secretary-treasurer
he had no duties except to sign papers.

District Attorney Clint W. Hager
Monday afternoon expressed himself as highly pleased at the excellent start made by the government. He predicted that the case will require at least six weeks for trial, as there are more than 300 witnesses to be heard.

Hager Wins Point.
In opening the case, District Attorney Hager elected to take up each transaction in turn and make his opening statement on each one as the trial progressed. He was upheld by Judge Sibley when defense made no objection. Defense counsel requested the court to exclude all witnesses from the courtroom during the hearing, with the result that witnesses assembled from all over the southeast, filled the corridor and adjoining rooms of the third floor of the federal building.

One hundred and sixty-seven witnesses were sworn in Monday morning as the first batch of the total of more than 300 subpoenaed. The 20-count indictment against the four defendants was read and District Attorney Hager went into his opening statement on the first corporation, the Amortization corporation. Testimony of witnesses followed, with William F.
Walsh and A. B. Cates, of the Atlanta real estate board, as the first and second persons, respectively, to go on the stand. King, whom the government claims was the "dummy" secretary of the Amortization corporation, was the third and last witness of the day.

Very little cross-questioning was done Monday. The government conducting the examination of witnesses.
Numbers of records and papers of the Bankers' Trust company and its subsidiary corporations were introduced as evidence by District Attorney Hager, who is being assisted in the prosecution by Assistant District Attorney E. S. Chastain and W. Henley, Attorney Hugh Powell, Postoffice Inspector T. B. Mayhew and Government Auditors Rank and Schoen.

Prosecution Outlined.
In his opening statement on the Amortization corporation, District Attorney Hager set out that the government will seek to prove that the Amortization corporation, of which

WORSHAM TO TAKE
BOARD POST TODAY

Former State Entomologist Will Resume Old Duties at Capitol This Morning.

Lee Worsham, former state entomologist who was named to serve again in that post at a meeting of the state board of entomology February 1, will assume his duties today, it was learned at the capitol Monday afternoon.

Mr. Worsham did not immediately begin work as state entomologist because he had some private business affairs to complete in Telfair county, his home.

Mr. Worsham served as state entomologist for many years, leaving that post about five years ago. He will succeed Hallard de la Parelle, who has been acting as state entomologist since the resignation of Ira W. Williams. Mr. de la Parelle will continue with the department as assistant state entomologist. He is a graduate of Yale university and one of the ablest men in the department, according to board members.

J. J. Brown, ex-officio chairman of the state board of entomology, said the next meeting of that body would be held Thursday, February 24, at which time disposition will be made of calcium arsenate contracts.

WILLIAMS BOYS
GIVE SELVES UP IN MURDER CASE

Two Brothers Indicted on Charges in Connection With Monticello Peonage Case, Surrender.

Monticello, Ga., February 14.—(AP) Hulon and Marvin Williams, charged with murder in the state courts and indicted in the United States district court on charges of peonage, growing out of conditions on the Williams farm six years ago, surrendered today to Sheriff W. S. Persons, of Jasper county.

The men have been fugitives from justice for six years. They said today that they have been in Florida since they left Jasper county after their indictment.

The indictments charged Hulon
Williams with killing a negro in 1918 and Marvin Williams with killing a negro in 1920. Their father, J. S.
Williams, was indicted in 1921 after the bodies of 11 negroes had been found on his farm and is serving a life sentence in the state farm at Milledgeville.

National Sensation.
The Williams case developed into a national sensation after department of justice agents began in the spring of 1921 an investigation of alleged peonage conditions on the Williams farm in Jasper county.

Their inquiry developed. It was charged, that more than 20 negroes on the farm had been killed from time to time and their bodies buried or thrown into the Yellow river, which flows between Jasper and Newton counties.

The bodies of 11 of the negroes were recovered, leading to the indictment in the state courts of Williams and his three sons for murder. At Williams' trial for murder in Covington, Ga., a negro farm laborer, Clyde Manning, a negro farm laborer, turned state's evidence and charged that he had been forced to aid Williams in "getting rid" of negroes on the plantation.

He told stories of how negroes that were to be killed were chained together and flung into the river accompanied by their shrieks and prayers to be saved. Williams denied throughout the trial that he had anything to do with the series of slayings and claimed he was the victim of a "frame-up."

His three sons disappeared shortly after the trial. They were charged with turning to Monticello three years later and asked for an immediate hearing on the murder charge. He later made bond on the peonage charge and since he was said to have been living in Florida.

There was no opposition to either
Deaver or Purvis, but President Coolidge withdrew their nominations last session when he withdrew that of Tilson, later giving all three recess
appointments.

Deaver is among those most promi-nently mentioned for the judgeship, following the president's withdrawal for a second time of the nomination of Tilson, which action was taken just on the eve of consideration by the senate of the former Atlanta's nomination several days ago.

Madcap Mabel
Is Stricken
By Pneumonia

Miss Normand Is Removed To Hospital After Catching Cold.

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution.)
The Chicago Tribune.

Hollywood, Calif., February 14.—
Mabel Normand, madcap comedienne of the films, lay gasping for her life in a battle with pneumonia tonight.

The actress' illness first was diagnosed as pleurisy. Pneumonia set in yesterday. Her temperature ran 104 yesterday but dropped to 103 today.

Doctors Clifford Loos and George K.
Dasey late today announced Miss Normand passed an easier day than yesterday, but that she will be removed to the Santa Monica hospital tomorrow.

Miss Julia Brew, the actress' secretary, said:
"We have an extremely sick girl.
The doctors want to make an X-ray of her chest as soon as they can get her to the hospital. The first favorable thing to make us feel hopeful happened today when her temperature dropped a bit and she perspired a great deal. Miss Normand has not been feeling well for some time and when she went out a week ago Thursday night, it was wet and chilly and she caught a cold."

Low Cody, the actor, who is Miss Normand's husband, was at a studio working on a picture today, but he returned home at once. He has been spending every moment at his wife's bedside.

after the ceremony, donned a cap and gown and took a seat among the other fellow.

SECRETARY OF TREASURY
CONDEMNS McNARY-HAUGEN PLAN TO ASSIST FARMERS

Atlanta Most Religious City of America, Sunday

BY HERB MCUSKER.

"Toronto, Canada, for many, many years ruled supreme as the most religious city on the North American continent—but it has been topped off her throne by none other than Atlanta, Georgia, U. S. A. How do you like that?"

That's the way Billy Sunday, famous evangelist, opened the first of two scheduled revival meetings in Atlanta Monday night before a crowd that overflowed into the corridors of the spacious Baptist tabernacle and into the streets.

"You don't have to point with pride at those great buildings of yours, or your parks and other worldly achievements—Atlantans, you can be proud that you've taken over that throne!" he exclaimed, while the assemblage broke into thunderous applause.

Challenges Modernists.
Speaking of prohibition, the evangelist brought the audience to enthusiastic applause when he said: "I've fought booze and its by-products for 30 years and, thank God, I've seen the day when the white dove of probi-tution built its nest on the dome of the white house—and I'm going to live to see the day when this country will be so dry they'll have to prime a man before he can spit!"

A challenge to modernists followed. "Tomorrow night I'm going to tell you folk something—and if you've got any friends—ministers or not, Fosdick or any of 'em—bring 'em around and hear me tell 'em that Joseph wasn't the father of Jesus Christ!"

Taking as his text, "Hope," First Peter, third chapter, fifteenth verse, the crusader, whose influence has been felt in every city, town, village and hamlet, declared:

"It's Jesus Christ or nothing in this old world—God isn't running a half-way house."

Senate Confirms Nomina-

ney for Middle District of Georgia.

Washington, February 14.—(Special.)—The nomination of Bascom S.
Deaver, "Macon" attorney, as United States district attorney for the middle Georgia district was confirmed today by the senate.

The senate acted speedily on the nomination, which was reported favorably from the judiciary committee but a few hours previously.

This gives the middle Georgia district a district attorney and a marshal, as Samuel Purvis, of Ocala, was confirmed for the latter post by the senate in December. Both nominations were sent to the senate by President Coolidge in December, who gave the two officials recess appointments last summer at the same time that he gave a recess appointment to William J. Tilson as judge of the middle district.

There was no opposition to either
Deaver or Purvis, but President Cool-
idge withdrew their nominations last session when he withdrew that of Tilson, later giving all three recess
appointments.

Deaver is among those most promi-nently mentioned for the judgeship,

POSTAL REVISION
VOTED BY SENATE

Amendments to House Bill Are Made and Measure Now Goes to Conference.

Washington, February 14.—(AP)— General revision of postal rates was voted tonight by the senate in adding a series of amendments to the house bill proposing reduction from 2 cents to 1 cent in the rate on postal cards.

The measure, passed without a record vote, now goes to conference.
Estimating that the bill would mean a loss of more than $30,000,000 annually in revenue, Chairman Moses of the postal committee said he did not approve it, but urged its passage so a rate revision measure might be worked out in conference.

Senate amendments would provide for the following changes:

Second-class Matter.—On publications devoted to advertising, for the first and second zones, 1-1/2 cents a pound instead of 2; for the third zone, 2 cents instead of 3; for the fourth zone, 3 cents instead of 4; for the fifth zone, 3 1/2 cents instead of 4; for the sixth zone, 4 cents instead of 5; for the seventh zone, 5 cents instead of 6;
for the eighth and between the Philippine islands and the United States, 5 1/2 cents instead of 6.

Rates on newspapers or periodicals maintained by religious, educational, scientific, agricultural, labor and fraternal organizations would be reduced from 1-1/2 to 1-1/4 cents a pound.

Transient Second-Class.—One cent for each two ounces instead of 2 cents.

Third-class Matter.—Rates reduced from 1-1/4 cents to 1 cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof up to eight ounces.

Fourth Class.—Two-cent service charges eliminated and rates provided in 1912 restored.

A provision establishing a 2-cent rate for private reply cards, to be collected on delivery, also was approved.
The rate for third-class matter was adopted on motion of Senator McMaster, republican, South Dakota, which threw out of the bill a new schedule proposed by the senate committee.

BILL ASSAILED

conference for adjustment of the differences, as this would require that the adjusted bill be returned to each house for approval, giving time for opponents to organize a filibuster and endanger final action. If the house machinery works as now set up, it will roll the senate bill through without the dotting of an "i" and it will go straight to the white house. Mellon said that to collect the equalization fee proposed in the McNary-Haugen plan, a force of government agents comparable to that of the internal revenue bureau would be needed. The impossibility of collecting every cent of the equalization fee is apparent," he continued.

"In addition to the fact that the equalization fee is a sum authorized by law which must be collected for the rehabilitation of the revolving fund, it can be seen that the collecting agency that does not make proper report is in effect withholding government funds."

Collection Will Be Hard.

"The collection of the equalization fee will be difficult. So much will depend upon the honesty and alertness of the collection agency that it can be seen that many units of the proper commodity as it passes through commerce will fail to pay the equalization fee provided by law. An unscrupulous possessor or purchaser or carrier will find that ability to evade the return of the equalization fee to the board will result in his profit."

Mellon's attack on the equalization fee strikes at what all concede to be the most vulnerable point in the McNary-Haugen measure. Opponents have contended that the plan would never work and that the $200,000,000 revolving fund would be only a way-outward, and would never come back.

This fund is proposed in the bill as temporary advance to enable the purchase and export or disposition of surplus crops at a loss if necessary, to hold up domestic prices. The government would be reimbursed by the equalization fee levied upon the transportation, processing or sale of any unit of the surplus commodity. Persons handling such commodities would be required to file returns under oath upon which the federal farm board would collect a fee fixed by it, this fee to go back into the revolving fund.

Supporters of the bill insist that this is a simple pure fee and not a tax. Opponents insist that it is in fact, though not in name a tax and therefore unconstitutional as it would be levied by the federal farm board and not by congress as required by the constitution.

U. S. OPERATION OF SHOALS URGED

Washington, February 14.—(AP)—With the house military subcommittee ready to recommend abandonment of the two bids before it for lease of Muscle Shoals, a compromise government operation bill was introduced today by Representative Lowrey, Democrat, Mississippi.

Lowrey proposed to create a corporation with the secretaries of agriculture, war and commerce as its directors, for production of fertilizer and nitrates and distribution of surplus power for a seven-year term. The corporation would be given $25,000,000 for its operations, which would be placed in the hands of a superintendent and three assistants.

Sales on Cost Basis. Fertilizer production would be the primary function of the corporation with manufacture of nitrates to supply the army and navy with ammunition and distribution of power "upon such a plan as the directors think wise to adopt, ranked in that order. Sale price of the fertilizer would be controlled by the corporation, which would dispose of all products on a cost basis.

Lowrey predicted his measure would be passed by congress at this session but members of the military committee, including those who favor government operation, doubted that the three bills remaining provide sufficient time for a decision. The subcommittee tomorrow will begin drafting its report to the full committee recommending acceptance of either the American Cyanamid company bid or the Farmers' Federated Fertilizer corporation bid in their present form.

Should the recommendation be followed, as appears likely, the Lowrey proposal and the bid of the Associated Southern Power Companies will be the only ones before congress. The price of the fertilizer would be controlled by the corporation, which would dispose of all products on a cost basis.

Bids Are in Accord. So far as general purposes of operation of Muscle Shoals are concerned, the Lowrey and private bids are in accord, objection to the outside offer being based on the contention of various groups that they do not provide iron-clad guarantees of fertilizer production and power distribution. The long fight over the property has produced three contending groups, one which demands fertilizer ahead of every other consideration, another favoring great power development, and a third for government operation to accomplish both ends, but thus far no proposal agreeable to all has been presented.

Outlining the situation, Lowrey told the house that the cheap fertilizer and farm relief questions have been demanding attention for years and he knew of nothing else "that would so discredit the congress and the government as for us to adjourn without meeting these two demands."

"In fact," he said, "if we adjourn and leave either one of these undone it will impress a very large number of our worthy constituents that their government has failed to function and is incapable of meeting serious situations."

New Orleans, February 14.—(AP)—John Alden, 29, rug salesman of New York, was fined $20 and sentenced to 20 days in prison here today on a charge of disturbing the peace by attempting suicide.

Alden penned a note saying "it's a great thing to be your own executor, your own judge and jury to decide whether you shall live or die." He swathed himself in bedclothes, opened a gas jet at the hotel where he was staying and laid down to die. His groans attracted the hotel proprietor, who called a physician and the police.

Alden said he made the attempt because of family troubles.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as the most effective healing agency for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, the greatest healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—(adv.)

Coal Mine Scale Will Be Debated In Miami Today

Miami, Fla., February 14.—(AP)—With definite pronouncements from both sides expected tomorrow, spokesmen for miners and operators tonight placed finishing touches on the proposals they will make for a new wage scale agreement in the central competitive bituminous coal field.

None would predict the outcome of the negotiations, which will get under way formally tomorrow following the report of the rules committee to the second joint session.

A brief initial session today was confined to organizations of the joint conference, composed of 35 miners and 32 operators, which will hold the voting power in reaching any agreement.

Rice Miller, Hillsborough, Ill., president of the Illinois Coal Operators' association, was elected chairman by acclamation. Herman Perry, of the same city, nominated by Phil H. Penner, Terre Haute, Ind., declined to accept the nomination.

President John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, was temporary chairman at the first meeting, relinquishing the chair to Mr. Miller after his election.

Thomas Kennedy, international secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers, was selected secretary of the conference. Minor officers and committees were chosen or appointed and the meeting immediately adjourned without discussion of the wage agreement problem.

Following the caucuses at which he acted as chairman, Mr. Perry said there were no announcements to make regarding the attitude of the operators.

"We have already given you the substance of our attitude," he said, referring to the Toledo proposal which was made public a few days ago. This calls for a revision downward in the wage scale, based on competition with non-union mines."

The desire of Illinois operators to further mechanize the mines and local demands for each state in the central field likely will form a burden of argument in the negotiations.

SALES ON COST BASIS

Lowrey predicted his measure would be passed by congress at this session but members of the military committee, including those who favor government operation, doubted that the three bills remaining provide sufficient time for a decision.

BANKER HELD PRICE OF FORD STOCK HIGH

Washington, February 14.—(P)—An offer of a block of stock in the Ford Motor company at $9,000 a share was rejected by Dominick & Dominick, investment bankers, New York city, in 1919, Gayer Dominick, one of the firm's managing directors, testified today at the hearing on the appeal of former minority stockholders against the government's attempt to assess a further levy of taxes on the sale of their holdings to Henry Ford eight years ago.

Dominick placed a value of $6,700 a share on Ford stock as of March 1, 1913. He was the second witness introduced by the government after it began the presentation of its case before the board of tax appeals, George A. Burpee, New York, consulting engineer and expert appraiser of industrial securities, estimated the stock to be worth $6,000 a share at that time.

Alexander W. Gregg, solicitor for the internal revenue bureau placed a maximum value of $6,500 a share on Ford stock as of March 1, 1913, adding that "a fair value ranges downward from the figure to $2,500 a share."

The top figure conceded by Gregg is almost $3,000 in excess of the stock value which was made the basis for the government's action against Senator C. C. Dill, of Michigan, and other former minority shareholders who are called upon to pay $30,000,000 additional taxes on the sale of their minority holdings to the Ford family in 1919.

Disavowing the treasury's previous appraisal of $9,500 a share on the ground that it was not a determination of value in the true sense, but rather a decision of convenience, Gregg informed the three members of the board of tax appeals who are receiving the evidence, that it was contrary to the policy of the treasury to make a determination of a question of fact in anticipation of a transaction.

As a further motive for revising its previous ruling, Gregg announced that the shares in the Ford Motor company in the spring of 1913 were exposed to risks of various sorts.

Counsel for the government expect to complete their case this week.

$693,155 OF STATE FUNDS ARE MAILED SCHOOL SYSTEMS

Checks aggregating $693,155 have been mailed to city and county school systems by Fort E. Land, state superintendent of schools, it was announced Monday at the office of the state department of education. This is 15 per cent of the annual appropriation of the 1927 school appropriation. Similar payments will be made schools in March, April and May.

This is the first time in the history of the state that schools have received a cash payment for the current year as early as February. The payment is made possible by a constitutional amendment providing for an increased borrowing power of the governor to the amount of $3,500,000, which plan replaces the old warrant system under which the county and city systems paid interest approximating $100,000 annually. Under the present plan, the state will pay the interest and make a net payment to the counties. Representative Buell Stark, of Whitfield county, was author of this amendment.

Some difficulties arose causing unavoidable delay in the first payment, Mr. Land said.

Bank Capital Hikes
Reflects Prosperity, Says Banking Paper

Within the past fortnight capital increases aggregating a total of $3,150,000 have been reported by banks in four southern states, according to The Southern Banker, of Atlanta.

In several instances where capital has been increased it has been occasioned by the very wealthy and vigorous condition of the bank, a portion of the earnings of which has been passed to the surplus account of the bank, thus automatically increasing the bank's capitalization, it is said.

Another factor indicating prosperity among southern banks is that numerous banking institutions in practically every state in the south are reporting plans for the erection of new bank homes necessitated through the requirements of increasing business.

Two new banks, organized during the last two weeks, according to The Southern Banker, are the Bank of Orange City, Fla., and the American Bank and Trust company, of Johnson City, Tenn.

Plot To Murder Laid to Shepherd
In Will Battle

Chicago, February 14.—(P)—A plot formed 15 years ago, which involved the slaying of two persons who stood in the way of his possession of their $1,000,000 estate, was attributed to William Darling Shepherd in a suit filed today to break the will of William Nelson McClintock, the "millionaire orphan."

Shepherd was acquitted of the murder of the youth, whose death he was alleged to have caused by administering typhoid germs, but the ghost of that long criminal court battle arose today to stalk him, connected with allegations that in 1909 he fed the boy's mother, Mrs. Emma Catherine McClintock, a fatal dose of poison.

The suit was filed in behalf of eight cousins and, in addition to Shepherd, named as defendants two cousins who did not participate; Mrs. Julie M. Shepherd and Miss Isabelle Pope, who was affianced to "Billy" McClintock and who was willed an annuity of $8,000.

In the will, which was drawn by Shepherd, an attorney, young McClintock designated Shepherd as chief beneficiary, with the only other bequest the annuity to Miss Pope.

Throughout the bill ran the allegation of compelling greed, but the chief attack against the will was based upon the charge that pretended execution of the instrument was secured "by and through undue, improper and wrongful constraint, machinations, persuasion, arts, practices and influences."

The cousins signatory to the action are Archie A. Charles D. A. P. and William J. Eaton, Maude Eaton Walker and Minnie Eaton Kersten, of Ottumwa, Iowa; Viola Eaton, of Dallas, Texas, and Luella Yokum, of Buffalo, N. Y.

SARTAIN EXPECTED TO SERVE SENTENCE

That Albert E. Sartain, former warden of the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary, will soon enter the prison of which he was at one time head, to serve an 18-months sentence for conspiracy to accept bribes from prisoners, was indicated Monday when James N. Linton, his attorney, of Columbus, stated that Sartain is out of funds and further appeal is unlikely.

Sartain's plea for a re-hearing before the United States circuit court of appeals was denied several days ago in New Orleans, leaving an appeal to the supreme court the only other possible avenue of escape. Since his conviction in federal court here Sartain has been living at Buckeye Lake, near Columbus.

Lawrence Rich, co-defendant with Sartain in the case, is under a sentence of a year and a day. Rich's appeal for a rehearing of the case before the court of appeals was also turned down.

FAIR AND COOLER WEATHER FORECAST FOR CITY TODAY

Fair and slightly cooler is the weather prediction for Atlanta and vicinity according to C. P. von Hermann, meteorologist of the United States weather bureau.

Monday the thermometer started at a low of 56 degrees and registered 68 as the maximum for the day. Today's temperatures are expected to reach a lower level, with no great change noticeable.

The return to sunny weather, while a relief from heavy rains over part of Saturday and Sunday, gave no assurance of what the immediate future holds for those whose fate is bound up with climatic conditions. "The atmospheric situation over the country is highly unsettled," Mr. Von Hermann declared, "and there is no telling what is in store for Atlanta and this section."

Funeral services for Mrs. Georgia Robert Wrenn, widow of B. W. Wrenn, formerly a high railroad official of Atlanta, will be held in Savannah today following arrival of the body from Washington, D. C., where Mrs. Wrenn died in a private hospital Saturday night. Her sister, Mrs. Samuel Stocking, lives at 765 Peachtree street. Interment will be in the family lot in Bonaventure, the colonial cemetery at Savannah.

For the past 20 years Mrs. Wrenn has been a resident of Washington, spending her winters in Florida. Prior to that time, she lived in Atlanta where she was prominent socially. She was in her eightieth year.

Mrs. Wrenn was born in South Carolina, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Robert Williams, and a niece

Ghoul Is Defiant
When Questioned
About 4 Skulls

Michigan City, Ind., February 14.—(P)—Sullen and defiant, James Coyner, giant negro serving a prison sentence here for grave robbing, today withstood hours of questioning regarding four women's skulls found in his trunk at Ferndale, Mich., Detroit suburb, last week, without giving any information to clear up the mystery.

Tomorrow the grave robber will be confronted with the trunk and its gruesome contents. In this manner Michigan authorities who came here to question him expect to break down his churlish silence.

Clyde Underwood, prosecuting attorney of Oakland county, Mich., and George W. Smith, Ferndale chief of police, tonight sent for the trunk which is to be brought here by a deputy sheriff. When questioning is resumed at the prison tomorrow Coyner will be handed the skulls found last week in a house in the Michigan city where he is believed to have resided several months ago.

Coyner, serving a sentence for robbing a woman's grave at Hammond, Ind., today told his questioners that he could tell "about a lot of murders and murderers" and then declared he would rather die than tell what he knew. He referred particularly to what he could tell about Detroit.

Intent upon gaining more information on this point on a theory that Coyner may have been the man who killed or wounded several women in attacks in Toledo the officers were disappointed when Coyner refused to mention Toledo.

Colonel George W. Wally, of Savannah, she was a member of the Daughters of the Revolution and the women's board of the Cotton States Industrial Exposition.

Her son, Major Allen R. Wrenn, accompanied the body from Washington. Her youngest son, Harry Wrenn, died several years ago. Her other surviving son, Beverly W. Wrenn, of Sarasota, Fla., will meet the body in Savannah. Besides these she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Stocking and Mrs. W. A. Day.

ATLANTA IS SELECTED FOR LUTHERAN SYNOD

"The Layman's Opportunity for Evangelism" was the subject of an address by Dr. Charles P. MacLaughlin, pastor, at the regular meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer on Monday night.

Dr. MacLaughlin returned last week from the annual meeting of the Lutheran synod of Georgia and adjacent states at Augusta, at which were present ministerial and lay delegates from the states of Georgia, Florida and Alabama. The Women's Missionary society of the synod was in session at the same time.

The synod accepted by unanimous vote the invitation of the Atlanta delegation to hold the 1928 sessions in Atlanta at the Church of the Redeemer.

Those attending from Atlanta were Dr. MacLaughlin, William B. Ahlgren, congregational lay delegate; Mrs. C. D. Shaefer, delegate from the Women's Missionary society; Miss Lella McGraw, secretary of the Synodical Missionary society; Mrs. Charles P. MacLaughlin, Mrs. Joseph H. Ziegler, Mrs. Charles Cook and Chaplain John Hall, of Fort McPherson.

DAWES ASSOCIATE

New York, February 14.—(P)—The German people can meet their full reparations payments and still prosper, in the opinion of Henry M. Robinson, co-framer of the Dawes plan and president of the First National bank of Los Angeles.

"The reparations burden is probably less, certainly no greater, than Germany sustained in maintaining her own war establishment before 1914," he asserted in the report of an investigation submitted to the National Foreign Trade Council and made public today.

False Teeth and Gold Fish Among "Lost" on Trolleys

BY HERB M-CUSKER.

"Lost, strayed or stolen: One pair of goldfish, last seen on a Stewart street car. Reward if returned, etc., etc."

A joke? Not on your life—it's a fact. And not only that. If you'd saunter into the lost article department of the Georgia Railway & Power company one of these days, they'd show you where the losing of a bowl of goldfish on a street car isn't odd enough to compel an employee of the department to elevate an eyebrow.

As the old folks used to say, passengers on street cars would forget their heads if they weren't tied onto them. Ask J. A. Robinson, assistant starter of the railway system—he knows.

"False teeth give us a lot of trouble," Robinson says. "For some reason, people who wear artificial molars remove them when they ride street cars and they often alight without taking them along. A set was turned in only yesterday from a route 17 car." Robinson didn't say whether or not there was anything significant in the tendency of passengers to remove teeth when boarding Atlanta street cars. And we didn't ask.

Women More Careless.
A glimpse at the records in the lost article department gives a tip-off as to many mooted questions.

Atlanta, London Will Be Linked By Phone Service

"Oh, Hi say—ah you there?"
"Yes, this is Atlanta speaking—how's tricks in London?"

Perhaps it won't go exactly like that, but anyway Atlanta will be connected with London by telephone Wednesday morning when at 7:30 o'clock Ben S. Read, president of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company, will call the English metropolis, inaugurating regular telephone communication between the south and Europe. Thereafter, the service will be open to the public.

For the present the service will be available daily between 7:30 o'clock and 12 o'clock noon, central time, which corresponds with 1:30 o'clock and 6 o'clock London time, the company announced, and it was suggested that when practical calls be made somewhat in advance of the desired time of completion. Calls will be accepted beginning at 7:30 o'clock to day for completion after the opening of the service the following day.

Cost of Messages.
Overseas conversation will be at the rate of $78 for the first three minutes and $28 a minute for each additional minute or fraction thereof from any point in the seven states. There will be a report charge of $10 in case the telephone is reached but not the designated party. Calls will be limited to a maximum duration of 12 minutes when other calls are waiting for connection.

In placing a trans-Atlantic telephone call the subscriber calls "long distance" in the usual way and the service is available to anyone whose name is listed in the telephone directory. The circuit used consists of a union of about 1,500 miles of land wire and 6,200 miles of cable.

Calls from the southern states are to be handled over the regular long distance telephone circuits to the long distance office of the American Telephone and Telegraph company in New York, where equipment is provided to separate the transatlantic calls from the regular long distance calls.

"Owing to the fact that communication is by radio," the telephone company's announcement said, "privacy cannot be assured, although work is in progress to insure a higher degree of privacy in the future."

Similar service will also be extended to five other southern states February 17, it was announced by Southern Bell and American Telephone & Telegraph companies at St. Louis. These states are Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida.

SETTLERS DRAWN TO TIFT COUNTY BY ASSOCIATION

Preparation of land for settlers under specifications of the Georgia association produced definite and encouraging results in Tift county in 1926, H. G. Hastings, president of the association, announced Monday.

By cutting large waste farm lands into workable tracts and by construction or renovation of barns, houses and fences, more purchasers have been attracted than there was land to offer, he declared.

"It is a mistake to invite settlers from outside of Georgia to show them land which has been idle for several years, but it is a different story when you first prepare the land for your settlers as outlined by the Georgia association, as our experience in Tift county shows clearly," H. H. Tift, president of the county board of trade, pointed out. "Tift county is in no financial difficulties, and the reason is that it is a diversified farm county, a cow-hog-hen county. We have merely put into effect the practical plan of the Georgia association."

The Newest and Best Treatment For Bad Colds

Discovery of Distinguished Chemist
Said to Be Greatest Medical Find of the Age.

Recent scientific research discloses the fact that poison bile in the system is merely a contributory cause to bad colds, and that the "bad cold germ" propagates only when the system is acid.

Two things then, are now considered necessary for bad cold relief—thoroughly cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels, and alkalize the system, which can now be done for the first time with one preparation, "Alertox," the discovery of a Southern Chemist.

Alertox is a liquid saline solution of well known mineral salts, dominated by sulphate of magnesium, which causes a physical (natural) evacuation of the entire intestinal tract, at the same time neutralizing the acidity of the system. Strong purgatives that good the liver merely cause a "chemical" evacuation and should be avoided, as they leave the system in a weakened condition. Under the Alertox treatment, the system is fortified and colds rarely ever hang on more than 24 hours, and often disappear in half that time.

Alertox is pleasant to take, non-irritating, non-absorbent and will not sicken or nauseate. 25c and 50c sizes at any drug store. If your druggist cannot supply Alertox, it will be sent direct upon receipt of price. Crystal Carbonic Laboratory, Desk 3, Atlanta, Georgia.—(adv.)

NEW DELAY SEEN IN BOND ISSUE

Despite the fact that the city of Atlanta already has won three legal skirmishes in the battle to validate and sell $8,000,000 worth of bonds for civic improvements, indefinite delay in the marketing of the issue was seen Monday by city officials when George Spence, attorney for Thomas B. Brady, complainant, announced definitely that he will appeal to the United States supreme court.

Although Mr. Spence declined to discuss the matter further, because he has not seen the text of the decision, he intimated that his information is that the United States circuit court of appeals in handing down an adverse decision against his client Saturday failed to decide "main issues of the petition."

He will prepare an appeal as soon as he receives the full ruling. He has 90 days in which to file the appeal. His petition then will be reviewed by a judge of the supreme tribunal and, if it is found to have merit, it will be set on the calendar for a hearing. If, in the opinion of the reviewing jurist, it is without merit, it will not be certified and will not be allowed a place on the docket.

MASONIC MUSICALS WILL BE PRESENTED ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Palestine Masonic lodge of Atlanta will present a musical program to members, their ladies and the general public Friday night. A number of the city's leading voices will be heard, supported by a chorus of 50 voices.

Mrs. Susan Bowden-Johnson, soprano, and Floyd Jennings, tenor, will sing "Miserere" from "J. Trovatore." Russell Dale, baritone, will sing "Denmore's" "I Must Down to the Sea Again," and several quartet and quintet numbers from operas will be given as well as chorus numbers from "Martha" and "Lohengrin." One of the unusual chorus numbers is Strauss' "Greeting to Spring."

The program begins at 8:15 o'clock in the Scottish Rite hall of the Masonic temple, Peachtree and Cain streets.

MAN STRUCK DOWN WHEN AUTOS COLLIDE

Struck down Monday morning in a collision of automobiles, R. B. Spinks, of 954 Meridian street, received severe bruises about the body.

The mishap occurred at the corner of Piel and Edgewood avenues when a car driven by B. Rizik, on turning east into Edgewood, skidded and crashed into a car parked along the curb. The parked car was knocked against Spinks. A case of reckless driving was made against Rizik.

FULTON OFFICIALS GET SALARY HIKES

Increases in the sum of $12,900 a year in salaries of various officials of Fulton county have been made by the Fulton county commission, it was revealed Monday by records in the office of Henry Wood, clerk of the commission.

Salaries of all municipal court judges were increased, as well as salaries of J. M. George, marshal, and O. H. Puckett, clerk of the court. Luther Z. Rosser, chief judge of the municipal court, received an increase from $8,500 to $10,000 per year, and other judges were given a salary raise of from $7,500 to $9,000 per year.

Mr. George and Mr. Puckett were tried increases of from $6,000 to $7,500 per year. The salary of A. A. Clarke, Jr., superintendent of the public works department, was increased from $6,000 to $8,400 per year.

Steve R. Johnson, superintendent of Grady hospital, draws a salary from the county of $75 per month in addition to his compensation of $3,900 from the city of Atlanta, according to records.

$40,000 THEATER PERMIT IS SOUGHT

Application to construct a $40,000 motion picture theater building at Flatshoals and Glenwood avenues was filed Monday with C. J. Bowen, city building inspector, by the Naborhood Theater, Inc. The new house will be a two-story structure 75 by 130 feet and will be of reinforced concrete.

NEGRO MINISTER DIES AT MARIETTA

Marietta, Ga., February 14.—(Special.)—Rev. A. Maxwell, one of the oldest colored ministers of this vicinity, died Monday. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Zion Baptist church. He will be buried with fraternal honors from Eden lodge No. 46, A. F. & A. M.

Pimples, Boils, Skin Eruptions

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S. You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S.S.S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

S.S.S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.—(adv.)

SCHOOL BUDGET ACTION DELAYED

Fate of the revised budget of the Atlanta public school system probably will not be decided before Wednesday afternoon, it was announced Monday by H. Warner Martin, member of the citizens advisory committee, which is on pass on the sheet before it is placed in operation. The delay was precipitated on account of the continued absence from the city of Harold Hirsch, chairman of the advisory body, and W. W. Orr, another member of the committee.

Under agreement between the board of education, which already has approved the finance paper, the committee also must act on it. In event the committee fails to approve the budget as submitted, it will be referred to the board with instructions to rearrange it.

Mr. Hirsch and Mr. Orr are expected to return by Wednesday, and a meeting of the committee will be called for that afternoon, it was indicated Monday. The meeting was slated for Monday, but was deferred. Decision of the school board to close

SIX NEGRO NIGHT SCHOOLS AS AN ECONOMY move precipitated a resolution approved by 700 members of the student body of the Edwin P. Johnson school protesting the proposal to the citizens advisory committee. When the committee meets to consider the budget, it will have the petition of the students before it for consideration.

LAST RITES HELD FOR A. A. NOLAN, CIVIL WAR VET.

Funeral services for A. A. Nolan, 82, pioneer Atlantan and veteran of the war between the states, who died Sunday morning at the residence, 1154 Euclid avenue N. E., were held Monday afternoon from the chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son. The Rev. W. E. Davis officiated, and interment was in Oakland cemetery.

Mr. Nolan was born in Morgan county, Georgia. He moved to Atlanta immediately following the war and during his residence here was well known in business and professional circles. He took a prominent part in all Confederate Veteran circles and was a member of the Central Presbyterian church.

He is survived by two daughters, Miss Lucile Nolan, principal of George W. Adair school, and Mrs. M. M. Wright, and one grandson, Newton Marcellus Wright.

Valentine Day Marked by Varied Festivities Here

Unleashing a salvo of piercing shafts towards unguarded hearts, L'il Dan! Cupid Monday, upon occasion of St. Valentine's day, descended upon Georgia, left old folks happy and young folks giggling, and gave mail carriers something to carry.

Throughout the city various social affairs contributed to enjoyment of the day, demure damsels read and read epistles of love from eloquent admirers, the aged caressed sweet memories of another day, and valentine vendors counted receipts and stored away surplus stock against next year. Florists and candy dealers registered often and generously upon their cash registers, the rain stopped and the sun came out and everybody was happy.

Palpitating hearts will return to normalcy today.

STUDENT SUICIDE LIST TOTALS 16

BY UNITED NEWS.

The number of student suicides has mounted alarmingly. Monday six more names were added to the rapidly growing list, bringing the total for the year to 16.

In widely separated sections of the country, students either wondered what self-destruction would be like or killed themselves because of difficulties with life.

The latest cases were: Martin A. Gearhart, 31, student in the post-graduate school at Princeton university, who was asphyxiated Sunday. He was believed—and a note to his mother seemed to confirm the belief—to have committed suicide, but the coroner said he met death accidentally.

George Cannon, 14, high school student at Davenport, Iowa, who shot himself to die "will be a glorious adventure."

Thomas J. O'Donnell, 18, senior at Hempstead, N. Y., high school, who shot himself to death last week at the stage in the school auditorium. In a note, the brilliant student said he felt he was a burden on his mother.

Miss Alma Evans, 31, school teacher of Union City, Ind., who hanged herself. She was a university graduate and an accomplished musician. She had been in poor health.

E. Braden, Jr., 19, of Alvin, Texas, asked his father, "What sort of a death is hanging?" Four hours later his body was found hanging in a barn.

Howard Fisher, 23, Sioux City, Iowa, piano teacher and former student of Morningside college, killed himself by inhaling gas. No motive for the act could be learned.

Other recent suicides included Rigby Wile, University of Rochester student, who killed himself because he had tasted life and found it empty; J. Morgan Derr, Jr., his friend and classmate, followed Wile into death.

Cassel W. Noe, of the University of Wisconsin, was intrigued by death; he wanted to find out whether there is an after-life and experimented with his own life, sending a bullet through his brain. His friend, James Moore, of the University of Illinois, a deep student of psychology, had committed suicide three weeks before him.

Others were Garvey Jones, medical student at the University of Chicago; Richard Starr, Untermyer, son of Louis Untermyer, the poet, who hanged himself at Yale; and Frank Forgy, University of Chicago student, who leaped to death from a train.

BISHOP M'DOWELL WILL BE SPEAKER AT CHURCH MEET

The Rev. William Frazer McDowell, bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, will speak to ministers and church workers Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock in the First Baptist church. Dr. Charles P. MacLaughlin, president of the Evangelical Ministers' association, in announcing this meeting, spoke of Bishop McDowell as "a man whose experience and consecrated service in the many fields of church activity, denominational and interdenominational, makes him one of the greatest spiritual leaders of the time."

The public is invited to hear Bishop McDowell and particularly ministers and workers in churches and Bible schools.

CUBAN PRESIDENT WILL BE ASKED TO VISIT ATLANTA

Colonel W. M. Camp, commander of the old Spanish colony, General Crowder, of Havana, Cuba, asking that he invite President Michado to visit Atlanta on his forthcoming visit to the United States. Since Cuban officials, Colonel Camp, who has been most hospitable to the old guard on their visits to the island, local members wish to reciprocate.

The president plans to arrive at Key West about February 22 and will go to Washington to attend a reception at the Cuban embassy in his honor, following which he is expected to continue to New York as the guest of Mayor Walker.

Many Cars and Busses Are Stranded on Detour Of Dixie Road in Monroe

Forresth, Ga., February 14.—(P.—Special.)—Monroe county has made an impression on motorists traveling Sunday in cars and busses over the Dixie highway detour of about four miles near Smarrs. The rains of Saturday and Sunday proved the undoing of about 75 cars and busses.

Whites and negroes from the countryside reaped a harvest, working Sunday and through the night extracting stuck cars. Two large passenger busses and one bus from Chattanooga carrying about 30 girls on a vacation, returning from Florida, were stuck. These were stranded in the mud from Sunday noon until Monday morning.

Chairman John A. Pennington, of the Monroe county board of commissioners, when questioned in regard to the matter, stated that Monroe county has nothing whatever to do with this detour as it is in the hands of the state highway department.

Many cars were still in the mud Monday afternoon.

Bleas Asks Changes.

Washington, February 14.—(P.—Special.)—The senate rules in order to eliminate seemingly contradictory ones was proposed in a resolution today by Senator Bleas, democrat, South Carolina. The resolution would have five members appointed to redraft the rules with instructions to change none but omit contradictory ones.

SEWELL, CAVENDER ARE BOUND OVER

Decatur, Ga., February 14.—(Special.)—W. B. Cavender of Berean avenue, Atlanta, and William Sewell, of Bedford place, Atlanta, alleged companions of J. Sam Boyce, who was shot and instantly killed Friday night in a Brookhaven store, by Oscar Lowell, DeKalb county officer, were bound over to superior court under two $5,000 bonds each, by Judge C. H. Livsey here this morning after both youths waived preliminary hearing.

D. P. Phillips, solicitor of the city court of Decatur, prosecuted the case, in the absence of Solicitor Claude C. Smith.

The DeKalb county grand jury which meets the first Monday in March is expected to consider the charges against the youths.

Boyce and Cavender were surprised in the drug store by Patrolman "Ozell," who shot Boyce when that youth snapped his gun in the officer's face, according to police. Cavender is alleged to have fired three times at the policeman, but without success, surrendering when he saw Boyce die, dead with a bullet just over the heart. Sewell was captured in the waiting automobile.

Both Cavender and Sewell stoutly maintain that Boyce, whom they claim had been drinking heavily, forced them, into the burglary attempt. Cavender asserting that Boyce made him enter through the smashed window glass at the point of a gun and then thrust a weapon in his hand.

Funeral services for Boyce were held Monday at the home of his sister, Mrs. O. L. Calhoun.

VANDERBILT GIVEN EDUCATION FUND BY COLUMBUS MAN

Vanderbilt university will receive $115,000 in cash and securities from the estate of the late Dr. Thomas E. Mitchell, of Columbus, Ga., for establishment of a fund, it is announced in the current issue of the college's official organ, the Vanderbilt Alumnus.

"It should be said that this benefaction was wholly unexpected," the Vanderbilt Alumnus said. "Although the name of Dr. Mitchell has been preserved on our list of alumni, he has not taken any active part recently in university matters. In spite of that fact, and in spite of his long absence from the campus, he has entrusted to his alma mater the sacred task of carrying on forever the work that appealed to him so strongly. No one can prophesy the good that will result from this gift."

Dr. Mitchell, who died November 7, 1925, was one of the most influential Vanderbilt alumni in Georgia and had a deep interest in matters pertaining to education. It is provided that the income from this fund be loaned to students from Georgia, preferably from Columbus.

A similar fund has been established at the university of Georgia.

Funeral Tomorrow At Ellijay Church For Claude Watkins

Ellijay, Ga., February 14.—(Special.)—Funeral services will be held here Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist church for Claude G. Watkins, 42, native of Ellijay, who died Friday at his home at Brighton, Colo.

Rev. W. T. Hunsicutt, of Atlanta, and Dr. J. A. Sharp, of Young Harris, will conduct the service. Mr. Watkins was a son of the late Dr. E. W. Watkins, Sr., and was educated in the Ellijay schools and at the University of Georgia.

He served as mayor here two terms, resigning 10 years ago on account of his health, and married in Colorado. He was a member of the Methodist church and of the Lions and Elks clubs.

He is survived by his mother and two brothers, Dr. E. W. Watkins, Jr., of Ellijay, and E. C. Watkins, of Brooklet, Ga.

Funeral Services Of J. L. Satterwhite To Be Held Today

Funeral services for John Louis Satterwhite, 53, president of the Satterwhite Furniture company and pioneer furniture dealer who died Sunday morning at the residence, 292 Ninth street, N. E., will be held at 11:30 o'clock this morning from St. Paul's Methodist church. The Rev. B. P. Fraser will officiate and interment will be in Greenwood cemetery.

After being connected with several local furniture-houses for many years, Mr. Satterwhite organized the Satterwhite Furniture company, which has grown to be one of the largest and best known firms in this section. He belonged to the congregation of St. Paul's Methodist church.

MOSES TO ADDRESS JEWISH WOMEN'S CLUB

Rabbi Alfred O. Moses, of Mobile, Ala., will speak next Sunday night at the Jewish Women's club, corner of Washington and Clark streets, it was announced Monday by officials of the newly-organized Zionist district.

A special invitation to hear Rabbi Moses has been issued to the Senior Hadassah, in accordance with the plans of the Zionist district to have a different Jewish organization of the city represented at each of its series of lectures.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by H. Effel and H. Rolken, of the Metropolitan theater orchestra.

NORTHWEST RAIL MERGER PLANS ARE MADE KNOWN

New York, February 14.—(P.—Special.)—Plans for the gigantic Northwestern railway merger were made known tonight by the unification committee, composed of George F. Baker, chairman, Arthur Curtis James, deputy chairman; J. P. Morgan, Louis W. Hill and Howard Elliott.

The consolidation, which embraces the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Spokane, Portland & Seattle railroads, is to be brought about through the direct operation of the lines of the three companies through lease of the properties to a new operating railway company, which would exchange its stock for stock of the Northwest Pacific and Great Northern.

The Spokane, Portland & Seattle is controlled by the two northern roads, which also for many years have held more than 90 per cent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy.

Application will be made to the interstate commerce commission for approval of the lease and acquisition by the new company of the stocks of the northern companies as soon as the committee believes deposits of stocks in accordance with the plan have progressed sufficiently.

The plan is unusually simple and free from complicating features, inasmuch as each of the northern companies has only one class of stock outstanding, and as shares are to be exchanged on a par for par basis.

INDIANA SUSPECT IS IDENTIFIED AS ROSENBERG

Positive identification of a man held by South Bend, Ind., police as Albert Rosenberg, escaped prisoner from the Atlanta federal penitentiary, was made Monday by Warden John W. Snook on receipt of fingerprints and a photograph of the prisoner. Rosenberg will be tried in South Bend for alleged participation in an attempted theater holdup, it was stated.

The photograph shows Rosenberg's jaw to be swollen as the result of a bullet which he received in a gun fight following the attempted robbery. Basil Banghart, motor vehicle theft law violator, who escaped with Rosenberg from the Atlanta prison, is still at large.

SAVANNAH SHIP COMPANY GIVEN $384,587 CLAIM

Washington, February 14.—(P.—Special.)—Decisions in a number of cases brought before the United States court of claims by steamship companies whose contracts were requisitioned by the government during the war were handed down today.

Judgments rendered included $384,587 for the Ocean Steamship company, Savannah, Ga.

JACKSONVILLE GETS PHOTOGRAPHERS' MEET

Members of the Southeastern Photographers' association will hold their next annual convention in Jacksonville, Fla., during October, it was decided at a board meeting Monday at the Ansley hotel, according to an announcement by Willis McCrary, Georgia vice president of the organization. The board meeting is held annually to map out plans for each year's conventions and is composed of representatives from Georgia, Tennessee, Mississippi, South Carolina, Alabama, and Florida. Mrs. Leah B. Moore, of Memphis, Tenn., presided at the meeting.

PRISONER ADMITS CHOPPING HOLE IN ROOF OF JAIL

Newark, N. J., February 14.—(P.—Special.)—The story of how he and 14 other prisoners escaped from the Asheville, N. C., jail last July through a hole which he chopped in the roof was related to police today by Garnet Arnold, aged 32, of this city.

Arnold, who was arrested Saturday for annoying a woman, said he was convicted of robbery under the alias of N. C. Wilson, and was awaiting transfer to the North Carolina state prison at Raleigh when the escape was made. He was sentenced to six months in the penitentiary today by Judge Boettner.

19 in 20 Mouths Are Safe!

Only 1 in 20 Needs Special Gum Treatment

ACCORDING to the most authoritative statistics yet published, your possibilities of getting pyorrhea are slight.

In its recent examination of nearly 17,000 policy holders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, the Life Extension Institute found that only 1 in 20 had pyorrhea; only 7.4% at the most susceptible age.

Because your gums feel tender or bleed a little is not necessarily a cause for pyorrhea-panic and for applying drastic drugs. Drugs only irritate normal, healthy tissues—and irritation does not prevent disease, but brings it on.

Instead of dosing your gums, give them the benefit of vigorous daily exercise with a good-sized toothbrush of medium stiffness. And use a dentifrice free from irritants such as DR. LYON'S. If after a few days your gums are still tender and bleeding, you probably need a dentist's attention.

Clean Teeth Perfectly And Don't Worry

Brush every surface of every tooth carefully twice a day with DR. LYON'S. Brush the gums twice as much as the teeth.

Visit your dentist regularly twice a year. Have your children's teeth inspected for fissures.

Dr. Thaddeus P. Hyatt, Dental Director of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, points out that 88% of the first permanent molars, appearing in a child's mouth at about the sixth year, have fissures on their grinding surfaces. Unless promptly filled, they can't be kept clean, and the whole tooth swiftly decays.

Dr. Lyon's TOOTH POWDER and DENTAL CREAM

Dr. Lyon's Cleans LEGITIMATELY

The choice of a dentifrice is not a puzzling problem. There is no more confusion about the advisability of selecting DR. LYON'S for the whole family than there is about the value of keeping teeth clean.

DR. LYON'S cleans and polishes teeth thoroughly and safely, and brings out all their natural white lustre.

It contains no drugs, no high-powered chemicals, no harsh abrasives. It sticks to what a dentifrice legitimately should do, and so the user's teeth stick to him.

Oldest Because Best

DR. LYON'S has been continuously on the market for more than 60 years. It is at once the oldest and most modern of dentifrices.

DR. LYON'S is best not because oldest but oldest because best. It is the only dentifrice old enough to prove that it cleans teeth safely and preserves them for life.

National Guard Service Emphasized by Notables

The place of the national guard in the national defense plan and the general support throughout the country of the nation's 125,000 national guardsmen was sketched Monday night to officers of the 122d infantry. Principal speakers were Major General E. J. (Zeke) Williams, commanding general of the 122d division; Adjutant General James Dozier, of South Carolina and the holder of the congressional medal of honor for bravery in the world war, and Lieutenant Colonel Perry Jones, chief of the medical corps of the fourth corps area.

General Williams compared appropriations for the national guard, the aid states give their troops, the attitude of the public and general usefulness of this component of the national defense system.

General Dozier, one of the youngest adjutant generals in the country, spoke of the aid South Carolina gives its troops and of the plans underway to make Camp Jackson a permanent camp ranking with the best in the country.

Colonel Jones spoke of the relation of line officers to medical officers and emphasized the care that should be given guardsmen. He told briefly of

Now They Whiten dull "off-color" teeth

Gain amazing clearness a new way

Please accept a free 10-day test of this new method as urged by leading dental authorities. It removes the dingy FILM that imperils pretty teeth and healthy gums

THIS offers a remarkable dental test. A test millions have made, the last few years, with almost unbelievable results.

It gives cloudy teeth a clear and beautiful whiteness. It adds high polish and luster. It firms the gums and gives them a clear and healthy look.

On dental advice, the world is turning to this way. Will you test it, please; then note results yourself?

You are imperiling your teeth and gums with a film coat

Dental science now traces scores of tooth and gum troubles to a germ-laden film that forms on your teeth. Run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel it... a slippery, viscous coating.

That film absorbs discolorations from food, smoking, etc. And that is why your teeth look "off color" and dingy.

It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack and your teeth open to decay. Germs by the millions breed in it. And they, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Whiter Teeth, Firm Gums

Ordinary dentifrices and cleansing won't fight film successfully. Feel for it now with your tongue. Note how your present cleansing method is failing in its duty.

Now new methods are being used. A dentifrice called Pepsodent—different in formula, action and effect from any other known.

Largely on dental advice the world has turned to this method.

It accomplishes two important things at once: Removes that film, then firms the gums.

the liberal policy of the government toward its troops who become disabled in line of duty.

More than 35 officers heard the short program. Adjutant General Charles H. Cox, of Georgia, introduced speakers and at the end, thanked them in behalf of officers of the 122d regiment.

The meeting was held in the officers' room at the auditorium-armory, the regular training work being taken up immediately following.

THIEVES OBTAIN MORE THAN $2,000 IN ARMY SUPPLIES

Army supplies valued at more than $2,000, and including 48 U. S. army pistols, clothing of various kinds and other equipment, were secured by thieves in the robbery of the supply room of regimental headquarters company of the 122d infantry. The robbery occurred several days ago but mention was made by officers until a thorough check had been made to list missing articles.

A check of property revealed the big shortage and information containing the serial numbers of pistols missing has been sent to various cities.

Enlarged Manufacturing Plants At Athens Cause Big Increase In Power

Athens, Ga., February 14.—(Special.)—Preparations are being made by the Athens branch of the Georgia Power company, which headquarters are in Atlanta, to provide for the industrial developments here.

The capacity of the local electric power company has been almost doubled by the connection with the Georgia Railway & Power company of Atlanta which soon merges with several other companies in the state and will be known as the Georgia Power company.

The following towns in this section have recently been connected with the Georgia Power company: Bogart, Statham, Winterville, Crawford, Lexington, Watkinsonville.

The Athens Manufacturing company, manufacturers of tire cord fabric, is doubling its capacity, expending over $250,000 in the enterprise, it is stated. Several hundred additional operatives will be employed in the enlarged plant.

The Hanna Manufacturing company has increased its capacity and is now manufacturing baseball bats.

The Whitford corporation soon begins manufacture of high grade men's shirts here.

The Joel Manufacturing company will open next month, manufacturing shirts, underwear and children's rompers.

Boy Scouts of Atlanta for the gift of the camp. He emphasized appreciation to the more than 2,000 persons whose subscriptions made up the $75,230 fund, to the 75 workers who have been actively in the field for ten days to secure the subscriptions, to the executive committee which directed the campaign and to the Atlanta newspapers for unstinted and constructive support through their news and editorial columns.

Unparalleled. "Except for the generous and un-sparing efforts of all of these this wonderful victory could not have been celebrated tonight," Mr. Atkinson declared. "The whole campaign has been a demonstration of perfect teamwork on the part of a whole city such as cannot be paralleled in any other campaign I have ever seen."

The final reports disclosed that nearly $20,000 of the $75,000 had been subscribed by Rotarians associated with the late Albert S. Adams in boys' work for a number of years. Several hundred dollars was sent into Atlanta by Rotarians in Marietta, West Point, Columbus and other cities in tribute to the former international president of Rotary, the only Georgian ever to hold that office.

Leading Teams. The list of subscribers, according to T. G. Woolford, campaign treasurer, represents a complete cross-section of Atlanta, with subscribers from all walks of life.

The two largest individual subscriptions were from Mel R. Wilkinson, honorary chairman of the campaign, and Mrs. Albert S. Adams for $750 each. Other subscriptions ranged from $1 to $100, with contributions in that amount having been made by the Georgia Railway and Power company and the Atlanta Georgian-American.

The leading teams in the final reports were those captained by Rodney Morrison, reporting $5,318; Bayne Gibson, $4,640; Frank E. Coffee, $4,440; Milton W. Bell, $4,290; John J. Thompson, $4,206; J. G. Savage, $4,027; C. L. Emerson, $3,770; Colonel P. M. Stevens, $3,645; Evelyn Harris, $3,720; W. Ray Hastings, $3,500 and J. P. Allen, $3,135.

An unpaid debt of service to Albert S. Adams inspired the leadership of Division "A," which led both the other divisions by more than $9,000, it was disclosed by P. M. Spratlin, division chairman, in his brief report.

Made Promise Good.

Mr. Spratlin, so he disclosed to the workers, was one of a small group of men who had been selected by the late Albert S. Adams to help him get the money with which the land was bought and the dam built for the lake at the camp, some time before Mr. Adams' recent death.

"I was too busy or not interested as I should have been or deterred by some other reason from keeping my promise to Bert Adams to help him then; this has been my chance to make good on that promise after he passed out of the picture and I have tried to do it," Mr. Spratlin said.

The division totals disclosed Mr. Spratlin leading with $28,639, Hal P. Hentz division second with $19,426 and Dana C. Belser's division a close third with $19,092. A special committee, headed by Earl H. Cone, secured the difference which made up the $75,230.

Mrs. Adams Notified.

News of the campaign's success was rushed to Mrs. Adams, widow of the man whose name will be immortalized in the camp, by an honor patrol of boy scouts immediately after the reports were made. W. C. Wardlaw, campaign chairman, penned the amount actually raised in her husband's memory on a subscription card, placed the card in a big box of roses and dispatched the scout patrol to deliver the tidings of victory to Mrs. Adams.

Thomas C. Law, a member of the campaign committee, made a brief address of tribute to Mr. Adams, pointing out that the monument to Henry W. Grady and the boy scout camp in memory of Albert S. Adams will stand as the first two memorials ever raised by popular subscription of Atlantans of all faiths and conditions of life in honor of men who had rendered outstanding service to their city and their fellowmen.

The campaign leadership was vested in W. C. Wardlaw as chairman and W. Eugene Harrington, president of the boy scout council, Louis D. Hicks, R. C. Darby and Thomas H. Daniel. Clifford Pearce was campaign director.

Produce Club Wins Cup in Apple Week Drive

Selected for the second time from a nationwide field as having pushed the most effective publicity campaign for national apple week, the Atlanta Produce club Monday night was presented with a silver cup by the International Apple Shippers' association, represented by J. C. Folger, of Rochester, N. Y., secretary of the association, at a dinner at the Atlanta Athletic club.

J. C. Loeb, chairman of the committee which handled the publicity, received the cup. The dinner was attended by representatives from practically every produce concern in the city, a combination which handled approximately 700 carloads of apples during 1926 for Atlanta consumption.

J. Frank Beck, of Atlanta, newly-elected head of the Consolidated Apple Growers' exchange at Cornelia, Ga., was a special guest at the dinner. J. L. McCord, president of the Atlanta Produce club, introduced Mr. Folger, who complimented local dealers on their splendid showing during 1926.

During the meeting tribute was paid the Georgia product and the opinion expressed that Georgia apples will be more profitably marketed when growers throughout the southeast adopt the modern methods of packing, sorting and cultivation now in effect throughout the western and eastern states.

MISS ANNIE E. RAMBO PASSES AT JACKSON

Jackson, Ga., February 14.—(Special.)—The death of Miss Annie E. Rambo, member of a prominent Georgia family, occurred at the home of Colonel and Mrs. W. E. Watkins Sunday afternoon following a stroke of paralysis. Born in Decatur county, Miss Rambo spent the greater portion of her life at Bluffton, having come to Jackson several years ago to make her home with her niece, Mrs. W. E. Watkins. She was connected with a distinguished family, having been a sister of the late Colonel J. D. Rambo, of Bluffton. She was a member of the Methodist church. Miss Rambo is survived by a sister, Miss Olivia Rambo, of Jackson, and a number of nieces and nephews. The body was taken to Bluffton Sunday night for funeral and interment in the family cemetery.

Vassar Professor Dies.

AS TO CHARTER REVISION.

The Constitution has received the following "personal" letter—therefore his name is purposely withheld—from one of the most active and influential members of the city council, and one in whom the people generally have the utmost confidence:

"I have noticed several articles in your paper about the water rate and our form of government.

"You sometimes do us an injustice by not making it clear how we were forced to raise the rate against our will, due to the extravagance of the school department.

"In other words the school department can spend its head off, and can advocate and get away with anything, and instead of putting your finger squarely on the trouble, it is passed on to us and made an argument as to why the charter should be changed—and the joke of it is that the changed charter will perpetuate the same identical system under which an enormous deficit was incurred.

"A charter amendment of a few lines would cure all of our troubles and satisfy the people. Simply cut the size of the council, combine a few departments and give the mayor more power. All of this I favor, but I cannot see why the whole charter should be scrapped, when 90 per cent of a new one must necessarily be the same as the old one.

"The proposed new charter has many dangerous provisions in it. I can demonstrate to any business man where Atlanta cannot operate more than one year under it without a tax increase. Its provision of civil service for EVERY city employee is a paralyzing thing which would forever make it impossible for any mayor or city manager to effect economies. Certain ladies have, by the way, been trotting around to various groups of city employees offering them special provisions, in return for their support.

"In spite of its cumbersome nature the old city government operates very efficiently and government statistics will make any unbiased citizen proud of its standing financially, as compared with other cities.

"I don't think your paper should place a blanket charge against us all, on account of one department's recklessness, and especially do I think you ought to investigate most carefully the proposed new charter before advocating it."

The Constitution has heartily and consistently agreed with, and vigorously advocated, the councilman's expressed views, and it appreciates the fact that he agrees with it as to the urgent need for a charter revision that will make Atlanta's government less cumbersome.

Any charter revision should make the councilmanic body less unwieldy, concentrate the service departmental activities, and give to the mayor, or some specific and specialized administrator, full and unhampered authority to apply business, and the accepted rules of business, to government—all without the conflicting and destructive political and factional elements that now embarrass morale and impair efficiency.

The Constitution has advocated no special draft or schedule of charter amendments now before the people, or to be submitted at a referendum.

The writer of the letter quoted has declared the principle sought—and a principle that the people of Atlanta should demand—is a simplification of our system of government, with less politics and more business. That is the whole charter issue in a nutshell. It is that principle only The Constitution advocates.

The Constitution has not at any time placed any of the blame for the school board mismanagement, culminating in a big deficit and a practical receivership, at the council's door. On the contrary it stated specifically that the raise in the water rates, while regrettable, and assuredly a bad advertisement for the city, was wisely considered by council as the best way out of a bad situation which council had no part in creating. When it commented on the 1926 governmental records, as outlined in Mayor Sims' retiring address, and the inaugural address of Mayor Ragland, it declared that the councilmanic government in 1926 had made a clean record, but that the school board had left the one black blot upon the page, a record of its own making, and in which council had no part.

The same school board is now advocating a charter amendment giving it direct taxing power—a provision which the people of Atlanta will overwhelmingly oppose, as they should.

On the whole council has made a good record, but with nearly 40 committees, a top heavy body, and a generally politically infested system—the product of the old days when Atlanta was but comparatively a village—there is need for charter modernization.

No progress can be made by inviting ills to cure ills. The matter of revision should be cautiously considered.

ANOTHER VALIDATION!

The decision of the United States circuit court of appeals in validating every feature of the Atlanta $8,000,000 bond issue—thereby sustaining the validating decision of Federal Judge Sibley of the district court, and of the state courts—ought to settle the matter.

With all courts to which submitted, in full accord, it will be a hopeless appeal to the United States supreme court, as threatened. It can only serve to further delay the beginning of the viaducts, and other improvement projects, called for in the issue.

One feature in the situation is clear. The legal entanglements will be finally eliminated, despite the delays. No one item in the development program will be stricken.

Pending the disposal of the last obstruction, therefore, the bond commission, councilmanic board, mayor and railroad officials should get together at once, and compose all differences as to viaduct plans so that work may proceed with as little delay as practicable.

GENERAL BULLARD COMING.

Major General Robert L. Bullard, who was one of the inter-council of commanders, at the right hand of General Pershing, during the world war, will spend several days as a guest of the North Georgia Agricultural college at Dahlonega this month. He is expected to arrive there on the 19th.

In 1895—32 years ago—General Bullard was commanding at that institution. He was then a captain in the regular service. No more popular officer ever tramped his boys over the Lumpkin hills.

On the occasion of the forthcoming visit the Dahlonega board of trade, and all the citizens, will join with the college authorities in making it a notable "home coming" occasion. Prominent people from all over Georgia will be guests of Dahlonega during the week to help in extending a state's cordial welcome to this distinguished soldier.

The Dahlonega institution stands among the first in America in its class in its military branch.

AN URGENT EXTENSION BILL.

Hearings on the Capper-Ketcham agricultural extension bill will begin before the senate committee on agriculture Wednesday, February 16. This is a most important measure, will be enacted—of inestimable benefit to the farming interests in the southeast, and every reader who is interested in the welfare of the farming classes, and who realizes the benefits accruing from the extension service, ought to write their senators and congressmen strongly urging its passage.

The southern agricultural works, representing 16 states, in convention in Atlanta recently, heartily endorsed the bill.

In a nutshell it provides $10,000 to each state for extension work for the next fiscal year. It further provides for increases annually to this fund for the next twelve years, making a total of $6,480,000. Smith-Lever funds now amount to $4,580,000, with a supplementary fund of $1,300,000, or a total of $5,880,000.

It will be seen that Georgia would get a great deal more funds for its extension work than from the Smith-Lever funds at present. But the point is, the funds provided under the Capper-Ketcham bill would further supplement the Smith-Lever funds, and would be spent in the same way. The passage of this bill would put an agent in every county in Georgia—an expansion of the work that is sorely needed—and would further strengthen the service all along the line.

In Rio de Janeiro the street car lines require collars and ties to be worn by male passengers on all cars. That's carrying civilization too far.

We are not going to get into war with Mexico. They can kill us quicker with the booze they are sending over the border.

The senate goes on the principle that its members should be elected, not selected.

John D. Rockefeller has just installed a radio set in his Florida home and it must have been good news to hear over the air the first night that gasoline advanced two cents a gallon in price.

BITS OF NEW YORK LIFE

BY JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

New York, February 14.—George Tyler staged a revival of Piner's "Travels in the World," with an all-star cast that included Mrs. Whiffen, Henrietta Crossman, Effie Shannon, John Lackey, Lawrence D'O'Ryan, John Drew, O. P. Heggie and some others. Naturally there wasn't enough "white meat" to go around and some of them were called upon to share the "neck."

They all tried hard enough but it's been so long since they've played minor roles they floundered badly, going through their parts with the same sort of gracious condescension and amused tolerance that Wayne R. Wheeler might assume, thumbing the pages of "The Lives of the Saints."

Which proves that a judicious admixture of alloy is as necessary to a theatrical troupe as a wedding ring.

When Charlie Lincoln assumed control of the New York Herald under the late lamented "Doc" Munsey, every man on the staff was a "star." It was probably the greatest aggregation of reporterial talent ever grouped in one city room.

"I have the finest staff in the country," Charlie remarked to a friend one day. "The only trouble is, the city desk doesn't send them out on anything less than a three-alarm fire. If I had about half a dozen good, mediocre, willing $30-a-week leg men I think I'd be the happiest managing editor in town."

Lincoln left the World to take the Herald job. The move was under discussion at the time in the city hall reporters' room.

"I understand," said Dan Breen, "that he's going to be Munsey's right-hand man."

"Maybe," replied "Doc" Adams, "but you'd remember Munsey's left-handed."

There's a new show on Broadway called "Tommy," a bright, well-acted and clean as a 10-year-old school boy's love for his teacher.

An old fellow and his wife sat directly in front of me the other night at the play. He was a real bird who might have been anything from a Methodist Sunday school superintendent to the "bagman" for a bootlegging concern. He had a scrawny, leathery neck and a head as thin as a needle.

There are various inherited, traditional and psychological reasons given for the fact, but none of them amounts to a justification of the prevalence of the old code duello in the present day.

We have been bred and brought up in an atmosphere saturated with the sentiment that one's rights and honor must be vindicated even unto blood.

The old code duello is now obsolete, but the evil seed of its sentiment remains in our social soil. Personal affronts too often assume with us southerners the magnitude of "mortal wrongs" for which there can be no adequate atonement other than wailing the offender off the earth. Where men elsewhere get a policeman, a warrant, or a lawyer, we get a gun and a bullet.

The results of our nursing that spirit are read in the bloody record from which the above citations are made.

Atlanta Doubles Chicago. Some persons may, with a heat of indignation, repudiate the statement that we southerners are a people of murderous inclinations.

But what answer do we make to the facts? Chicago had 563 homicides the same year that Atlanta had 91, or more than 12 times our rate. But Chicago had 12 times more population and Atlanta's rate of 39.1 to the 100,000 was more than double that of 18.8 in Chicago. The majority population of Ab, little creatures of chance, blown about the winds of misfortune, boys and girls have grown to nation's honor and fame; glorious little champions of the faith, you haven't many things, but you have that all-important quality—aristocracy of mind and heart.

Disagrees With Senators On McNary-Haugen Bill

Editor Constitution: After voting against the McNary-Haugen bill, Senator Harris and Senator George set forth their reasons in a statement published in your paper last Friday. They say: "Two Georgia products are in the bill, namely, wheat and hogs."

What are the facts? The proposed bill covers wheat, corn, cotton, rice, hogs and tobacco. Georgia produces in abundance all these crops except rice. It is not to be understood, therefore, how our senators can say that the bill covers nothing produced in Georgia except cotton and hogs.

The statement also contains this language: "Not more than three of the board will have any direct interest in cotton farming." The real control of our chief product will, therefore, at all times be in the hands of a board of the majority of which will have no real interest in or understanding of the problems of the cotton farmer.

No what are the facts as to this? The bill proposes a board of 12 members, one from each Federal Land bank district, all to be appointed by the president. Now let us see what the makeup of this board will necessarily be and thus ascertain how many of the members of the board will be interested in the cotton crop.

Here is a list of the Federal Land banks with the names of the states in each district:

District No. 1—Columbia, covering North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. All these states produce cotton.

District No. 2—St. Louis, covering Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi. All these states produce cotton.

District No. 3—Houston, covering the state of Texas. Texas produces cotton.

District No. 4—St. Paul, covering Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. No cotton.

District No. 5—Omaha, covering Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming. No cotton.

District No. 6—Spokane, covering Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington. No cotton.

It will be seen, therefore, that at least eight of the proposed board would come from districts where cotton is grown and are perfectly familiar with the cotton crop. It is difficult, therefore, to understand why our senators say that not more than three members of the board would have any interest in cotton.

LOOKING AND LISTENING

BY SAM W. SMALL

The Killing Complex in Atlanta and the General Reign of Lawlessness.

In 1925, the latest year fully reported, there were just eight cities in the United States that had more homicides than Atlanta.

As yet no satisfactory explanation has been given as to why Atlanta ranked so low as ninth in its output of human killings of a quasi criminal character.

But when it came to the rate of such killings, per 100,000 of inhabitants Atlanta did better, for only two cities had a higher rate. The rate in Memphis was 59, in Birmingham it was 54.5 and in Atlanta it was 39.1.

The cities with more total homicides were Chicago with 563 for the year; Detroit, 243; Philadelphia, 192; St. Louis, 127; New Orleans, 154; Cleveland, 133; Birmingham, 112; Memphis, 105, and then came Atlanta with 91.

All the rates above 20 per 100,000 of population were in southern cities, being 59 in Memphis, 54.5 in Birmingham, 39.1 in Atlanta, 37.2 in New Orleans, 27.3 in Nashville, 27.3 in Dallas and 23.5 in Houston.

The usual explanation for these larger rates in southern cities is the greater larger proportion of negroes in their populations, and it is the fact that in them the negroes do the majority of the criminal homicides.

Our Proneness to Kill. There is a general impression in this country that southerners are more prone to kill their personal adversaries than are the men of other sections of the nation. That impression is hard to accept, but it is not a far wrong one.

The old code duello is now obsolete, but the evil seed of its sentiment remains in our social soil. Personal affronts too often assume with us southerners the magnitude of "mortal wrongs" for which there can be no adequate atonement other than wailing the offender off the earth. Where men elsewhere get a policeman, a warrant, or a lawyer, we get a gun and a bullet.

The results of our nursing that spirit are read in the bloody record from which the above citations are made.

Atlanta Doubles Chicago. Some persons may, with a heat of indignation, repudiate the statement that we southerners are a people of murderous inclinations.

But what answer do we make to the facts? Chicago had 563 homicides the same year that Atlanta had 91, or more than 12 times our rate. But Chicago had 12 times more population and Atlanta's rate of 39.1 to the 100,000 was more than double that of 18.8 in Chicago. The majority population of Chicago is of foreign extraction, while less than two per cent of Atlanta's people are of that sort.

In the cities of this country having 100,000 population or over, the homicide rate has steadily increased during the present century. In 1900 it was 3.4 per 100,000 and in 1925 it was 11.1, or largely over three-fold.

It is not exact to say that the increase was due to lighter regard for human life generated by the passions and experiences of the world war. In the world war years the number of homicides ranged around 2,000 per year; in 1924 they were 2,682 and in 1925 were 3,208.

So the increase must be due to the growing spirit of lawlessness that is all too evident in the daily life of our people.

Are the Courts to Blame? The best authorities in the nation are practically agreed that this increased lawlessness is largely chargeable to the laxness of our courts in enforcing the laws for the punishment of criminals.

Chief Justice Taft has recently voiced a stinging indictment to that effect. He said:

"The administration of criminal law in the United States is a disgrace to civilization. The trial of a criminal seems like a game of chance, with all the chances in favor of the criminal, and if he escapes, he seems to have the sympathy of a sporting public."

Nothing more true and more damaging to our courts and judges has ever been uttered by a responsible authority in all our history.

Judge Charles Evans Hughes, in his address as president of the American Bar association, was equally scorching in his arraignment of our lawless record. He said:

"We have a shocking prevalence of crime, and of crimes of violence, infractions of the plainest requirements of civilized society about which there is no debate. Our capacity to protect life itself is in question. There is a manifest failure to secure, through an adequate administration of our criminal laws and appropriate punishment of crimes, the different effects which are in large part the objects of these laws."

Where to Find the Remedy. It is also commonly agreed by the most eminent authorities that, lacking a universal conversion of the people to the religion of law obedience, the only available way for the reign of law lies in the hands of the legislatures of the states.

Forty of them are now doing business at their state capitals and it will be interesting later in the year to study their acts and estimate how much they may have done to simplify the processes of justice and insure public protection from the criminals who are now joyriding over the country.

The chief demand arising from present conditions is the simplification of criminal pleadings and the speeding up of trials. An unquestioned majority of the criminal cases "bust the courts" do so on trivial technicalities that meticulous judges aid and abet.

Another demanded reform is the limitation of continuances, causes for delay, and abolition of suspended sentences.

And a third help would be to deprive governors of any power to commute a prison sentence or pardon a convict. In private life, in several states have made "executive clemency" one of the greatest forces in our scheme of government.

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

KILLING THE PAIN, ALSO THE PATIENT.

Salicylic acid and its derivatives, such as sodium salicylate, acetyl salicylic acid ester (more commonly known as aspirin), are justly famed as pain killers, particularly in cases of joint inflammation, nerve inflammation, the general aches of malaise (as in the onset of various febrile illnesses), and just vague aches or discomforts (too often fancied by the patient as an excuse for indulging in the drug he craves).

Now it is the general consensus of sound medical opinion that an occasional dose of aspirin—which is no longer a proprietary medicine but a drug which anyone can manufacture and sell—is harmless for normal individual. But there can be no question that the popular abuse of this pain killer is most pernicious and dangerous to some.

By abuse I mean the bad habit of resorting to a dose of aspirin on the slightest pretext, a trifling headache, a headache, a sense of fatigue, or worse still, dopying oneself with this medicine in anticipation of some such discomfort, as some aspirin inebriates do.

In any dose or any circumstances it is probable that aspirin is less injurious, less dangerous than the older and cheaper pain killer, acetanilide, which, though it is a more powerful analgesic, is a more potent poison.

Of the 10 lepers He cleansed but one returned to thank Him.

As a Protestant I wonder why so many Protestants as well as Roman Catholics celebrate the 700th anniversary of the death of St. Francis. Was he really the model of Christian grace and virtue which has been set forth recently?

Milton C. Work's Pointer On How To Play Bridge

(Milton C. Work, the international bridge authority, will answer your auction bridge questions. A stamped self-addressed envelope must accompany each request for replies.)

(In response to numerous requests, Mr. Work will write on contract for the next few days instead of auction bridge. During that time, his daily auction bridge pointer will be omitted, but will be resumed later.)

Continuing the subject of contract bridge commenced in this series of articles yesterday, it is important to set aside at once the prevalent idea that it is a new game. The game appeared in Europe, and was known about in America, years ago; it became a recognized game in the early part of the last decade. As early as that, the card committee of The Whist club was asked to draft laws for contract, so that there would be a standard American code. This the committee declined to do, being unanimously of the opinion that the game was not fitted for club and social play in this country. The club and its committee are still of the same opinion and, therefore, there are no contract laws emanating from the Whist club. For years has supplied the card players of America with the laws, first for bridge and then for auction bridge.

There is, however, no dearth of contract rules and customs. These may be found in various spots in the United States and Canada, and the difference of their provisions (particularly in the matter of counting) is even wider than the distribution of the spots. In this series of articles an effort will be made to clarify the most important of them and explain their principal differences.

All contract counts, however widely they diverge in trick and game values and bonus allowances, have the same basic principle, viz.: That it is necessary in order to count for tricks (below the line), to bid the number to be counted. This same principle has been followed abroad for the last fifteen years; the game there being known generally as "plafond." It has never attained great popularity in England, but has found more favor on the continent—particularly in Paris where it is cherished.

Another article on contract tomorrow.

Bankrupt Plea Made by Ex-Wife Of Millionaire

Waterbury, Conn., February 14.—(AP)—Mrs. Elsie Hinman Denny, of Waterbury and New York, divorced wife of two millionaires, filed a petition in bankruptcy here today through counsel. Her former husband were Charles E. Lewis, of Woodbury, Conn., and Robert Dula, Jr., of the Dula Tobacco company, fortunes.

About a year ago Mrs. Denny obtained a $100,000 judgment in the New York supreme court against the parents of her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dula, Sr., for alienating the affections of her husband, the junior Dula. An appeal was taken and in the court of appeals for the judgment was reduced to $10,000. Robert Dula Sr. had died before the case reached the court of appeals and the $10,000 judgment was given against Mrs. Robert Dula, Sr.

Mrs. Denny owes $14,000 now and has no assets. Her debts range from $500 tax bills to $5,000 for counsel fees. She owns several New York hotels.

LAST SERVICES FOR E. R. LOWRY THIS AFTERNOON

Funeral services for E. R. Lowry, who died suddenly Monday morning, will be held this afternoon from the home, 552 Zachary street, West End, Rev. E. L. Flannery officiating.

Although more than 60 years old, Mr. Lowry had long been active in boy scout leadership and the outdoor phases of scout life. He served for the last seven years as scoutmaster of two troops which he organized. He also had been in attendance regularly at the scoutmaster's club meetings and had taken a special course in scoutcraft for the last seven weeks with the club.

The organized troop No. 26, meeting at West End Presbyterian church, in 1920, and was its leader until 1923, when he organized troop No. 17. He was active scoutmaster of this troop until his death, attending its last meeting Friday night, when his troop appropriated its entire treasury to the Bert Adams Boy Scout camp fund. Scouts in all sections of the city affectionately knew him as "Pop" Lowry.

Mr. Lowry rose Monday morning apparently good and healthy, but when he went to the back porch to procure kindling to start the morning fire, he fell and died before medical aid could be summoned.

He is survived by two sons, Elmer Joseph Lowry, and A. B. F. Lowry, of Augusta; a sister, Miss Winona Lowry, of Dayton, Ohio; and a brother, Albert F. Lowry, of Indianapolis, Ind. The body will be carried to Monroe, Ohio, for burial. Barclay & Brandon, funeral directors, are in charge of arrangements.

CARROLL CARRIES BATH TUB CASE TO HIGHEST COURT

Washington, February 14.—(AP)—Attorney for Earl Carroll appealed to the supreme court today to keep the theatrical producer from going to jail as an aftermath of his celebrated bathtub party in New York.

Carroll's perjury conviction was based on his denial, under oath, that there was a chorus girl in the bathtub used at the party as a punch bowl. Unless the conviction is reversed he must serve a year and a day in the penitentiary and pay a fine of $2,000. He should have been entirely innocent from prosecution in the beginning, his attorneys said, because of his appearance and testimony before the grand jury. They added that the indictment should have been quashed because of the presence in the grand jury room of people not entitled to be there, and that his trial was invalid because his counsel was not given full liberty in examining witnesses.

It may be weeks or months before the issue is decided.

Federal Child Labor Amendment Rejected By Senate in Nevada

Reno, Nevada, February 14.—(AP)—The child labor amendment to the federal constitution was rejected by Nevada senate today when it approved a motion for indefinite postponement.

TEN PERSONS KILLED IN ENGLISH WRECK

Hull, England, February 14.—(AP)—Ten persons were killed and more than fifty injured in a head-on collision between two trains this morning outside the Paragon station at Hull. Several of the injured are in critical condition.

A local train proceeding from Withernsea to Hull and an express bound for Scarborough came together about 200 yards from the station. The Withernsea train carried 350 business men and women and school children.

Six cars of the local train were telescoped. The foremost of these carried schoolboys, one of whom was decapitated. The accident occurred directly opposite a hospital, and doctors and nurses leaped the wall to reach the victims. Many of the passengers were extricated with crowbars and pickaxes and given surgical treatment immediately.

The women passengers were especially cool; one girl pinned under the wreckage directed her rescuers for half an hour until freed. Some of the school children were trapped for more than an hour in the wreckage, but behaved most courageously.

The cause of the collision has not been explained.

BOLIVIA GIVES WARM GREETING TO U. S. FLIERS

La Paz, Bolivia, February 14.—(AP)—Bolivia's capital extended a wonderful welcome to the seven members of the Pan-American flight squadron, who reached here at midnight Saturday to deliver a letter from President Coolidge to the president of Bolivia.

They were greeted, notwithstanding the lateness of the hour, by thousands, who gathered around the railway station.

So enthusiastic were the Bolivian people that it took an hour for the aviators to make their way to the La Paz club, only a few blocks distant. The streets were packed with a shouting, cheering mass, who insisted on carrying the fliers on their shoulders.

In honor of the United States and Bolivia the government declared a public holiday, with the people in gala attire and flags flying everywhere.

AGED MERCHANT OF COMMERCE DIES

News of the death of R. T. Daughtry, 76, prominent and retired merchant of Commerce, Ga., who died Monday afternoon at his home in Commerce, following an illness of several weeks, has been received here by his daughter, Mrs. F. W. Stone, 581 Linwood avenue.

In addition to his daughter, Mr. Daughtry is survived by his wife, another daughter, Mrs. E. S. Winn, of Fitzgerald, Ga.; a son, W. L. Daughtry, of Atlanta, and two brothers, Hampton Daughtry, of Jackson, Ga., and Griffin Daughtry, of New York city.

Funeral arrangements for Mr. Daughtry have not been completed.

DR. LINTON GERDINE HEADS ATHENS BODY

Athens, Ga., February 14.—(Special).—The Clarke County Anti-Tuberculosis association has elected Dr. Linton Gerdine as president, Mrs. E. R. Hodgson, Jr., vice president, Mr. A. Rhodes, secretary, and M. G. Michael, treasurer. Dr. Gerdine succeeds Mrs. Hodgson.

Organized several years ago to combat tuberculosis by education of the community against the disease, the association has maintained a public nurse for the purpose of locating tuberculous cases and giving instruction in fighting the disease.

The Clarke county tuberculosis hospital was erected as a result of the efforts of the association in securing public sentiment in favor of expending public funds in fighting the disease.

AN OBLIGING BEAUTY DOCTOR

A Beauty Specialist Gives Home-Made Recipe to Darken Gray Hair.

Mrs. M. D. Gillespie, a well-known beauty specialist of Kansas City, recently gave out the following statement regarding gray hair:

"Anyone can prepare a mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barley Compound and 1-4 ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and will not rub off."—(adv.)

FOR INFLAMED BREATHING TUBES

Try Dr. Blosser's Medical Cigarettes in the Next Attack.

If you have catarrh you are in danger of losing your hearing. The first symptoms of catarrhal deafness are roar or buzzing sensations and a stopped-up feeling in the ears. A neglected cold, or an unhealed cold, leads to catarrh, and as everybody knows, catarrh affects the eyes, ears, nose, throat, lungs and frequently determines the general health.

The secret of the successful medication of these hidden parts was discovered by Dr. Blosser in his medical practice. This remedy is applied by smoking a certain combination of medicinal herbs (containing no tobacco) in a pipe or cigarette. Dr. Blosser's Remedy reduces a dense mucous vapors which is inhaled or forced into the Eustachian tubes leading to the middle ear. It penetrates to parts impossible to reach with salms, sprays, douches, pills, tablets, liquids and so-called "constitutional treatments." This Remedy is absolutely harmless and is being used successfully by adults and children.

Z bid 1 heart, which A passed and Y denied with 1 spade; of course B passed, then Z tried 2 diamonds. Naturally Y regarded two small diamonds as better aid for his partner than being void of the suit first suggested, but he felt compelled to bid 3 clubs, intending to let Z alone in case he was strong enough in diamonds to rebid them. Instead of rebidding a red suit, Z bid 4 clubs; he wisely refrained from venturing 5 clubs, for fear that Y might bid for a small slam. Y bid 5 clubs, and just managed to fulfill his contract. Game could not have been won at spades, hearts or diamonds.

Coolidge Asked To Give Negroes Equal Chances

Washington, February 14.—(AP)—A petition urging President Coolidge to remove discriminations against their race was presented to him today by a committee of negroes representing organizations in New York, Boston and other northern cities.

The committee, headed by the Rev. George Frazier Miller, of New York, asked the president to take steps to end "racial segregation" in the federal civil service wherever some officials "are attempting to perpetuate an official caste system based upon color."

Referring to recent lynchings in South Carolina and other states, the petition urged Mr. Coolidge to send a special message to congress urging early enactment of the Dyer anti-lynching bill.

An investigation by the attorney general of "the whole question of disfranchisement of persons of color in the states of the south" was asked "so that you may be informed of the grave peril to the peace and perpetuity of our government."

Nothing, except his revoking, could prevent B from making the small slam which he had bid, and both A and B took good care that their side did not revoke. B made his small slam, counting 750 for the slam bid and made 500 points for the rubber game and 100 points for honors. This was quite a different story from what A might have had to tell in case he had been allowed to play the hand at spades. He must have lost three trump tricks; unless the opening lead had happened to be a heart A would have also lost a diamond trick, making him two tricks down, or 200 points loser, because he was vulnerable. Going down 200 points instead of winning 1,350 points as B did, would have made a difference to them of 1,550 points—quite a bit of difference, even between friends, presuming that they still remained so after that hand.

Piles Disappear

External treatments seldom banish Piles and for the very good reason that the cause is inside—bad circulation in affected parts, veins are flabby and bowel walls weakened.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send fresh, healthy blood to the raw, sensitive membranes. Internal treatment is one safe method. Ointments and other external treatments can't give lasting relief.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and it has proven successful in thousands of cases—so successful that now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists under a money back guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Jacoby drug store, where you will promptly refund the purchase price if you are dissatisfied.—(adv.)

$1,000,000 Paid For a quick, complete way to Fight Colds

One of the world's great laboratories developed an ideal way to fight colds. It combines a number of important discoveries. It is so efficient, so complete that we paid $1,000,000 for it.

The best helps known are combined in one tablet. It does all that is needed. It checks the Be Sure It's HILL'S Price 30c entire system.
CASCARA QUININE

It acts quickly. The cold usually ends in a day. It rarely gets started, even, if one takes these tablets promptly.

This method is called HILL'S. Its use has grown and grown until millions now employ it. Don't rely on lesser help. A cold is too important. And don't delay. Things will be very different tomorrow if you start HILL'S now. You will keep them ever-ready after that.

A Raw, Sore Throat

Heals quickly when you apply a little Musterole. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain and won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. Brings quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds on the chest.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for infants and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

SYNOPSIS.
Gonzella Marsh, employed in the scenario department of Hertog's Perfection motion picture studio at Fort Lee, New Jersey, learns with sorrow that Henry Hertog, the head of the department, has been fired by Lyman Hertog, son of the owner of the studio. Everyone knows that Lyman is jealous of Henry because he is in love with Dulcie Jayne, the star of the studio, but Dulcie seems to prefer her director, Daniel K. Leland.

Mr. Hertog suggests to Lyman that they feature Leland as an actor as well as a director and this causes a quarrel between father and son. Old Mr. Hertog suffers a stroke of apoplexy as a result and Lyman is left in charge of the studio.

INSTALLMENT XX. IRONY AND INDULGENCE.

From under his heavy brows Leland at last looked at Dulcie long and intently. "The young ones have all the nerve! Eighteen—pretty soon!" His voice carried a full slow tide of caressing bitterness. "Then what do you think it feels like at forty?"

"Do you think that makes it any easier for me?" The terrible child bent on him a ferocity that turned her pale. "It helps a lot to feel you're getting restless and discouraged—seeing your life go by, your time go by, and not getting anything out of it! You're likely to stay sitting pretty, aren't you, with a girl that holds you back, holds you down like a corpse tied to you? A girl that wipes you out so long as you stick to her! You're that kind of a man!"

"So long as I see what I want in her, I think I am."

"O, of course. T.H. somebody else turns up!"

How shocking are these moments when some coarse and ugly expression reveals a single track mind in extreme youth! A small tiger could not have spit more unbearably. And she didn't care at all. She cared only about something raging in her heart that shook her. She was entirely helpless before it; it possessed her. And yet never had there hung round this small savage a more piteous and childish grace than when her heart shook those coarse and ugly words out of her delicate, fine lips.

"Here I have to just sit, getting older and older, withering away! But offers'll be coming to you all the time. Women'll be coming to you all the time. The thrilliest in the business. And out of it. And more money than we'll ever see together, very likely!" She caught her breath. "And I'd ought to let you go! I'd ought to make you go! Only—"

She put her hand to her breast, a gesture she had made once or twice before, as though she were some tallismen beneath her blouse. "Only—"

"In the latest grammars, old Kit, I don't take a final 'd' before ought." She was searching desperately through her pockets and he must have had at least one eye on her, for, with no word said, he passed her his handkerchief. "You've got no sense Kit. You ought to let me go—You talk as if you were Pharaoh and I were the people of Israel!" His glance sought hers, all irony and indulgence, with tenderness enough to carry the scene.

How infinitely cool, firm and protective seemed that large handkerchief to the little nose she blew vigorously! When one is used to undemonstrative control the touch of a linen may count for almost as much as the touch of a hand. She was, moreover, perfectly aware that he was exerting all his power over her to prevent any scene that would wear her out for that right; there was nothing he wouldn't have done to prevent her squandering any of the fire whose full blaze he wanted, later, on the screen. So she took comfort and began on her third lump of sugar. Through all his pre-occupation he detached her from it and, setting the bowl out of reach, said, "Too much is enough."

Still, sugar or no sugar, it was plain that she could eat no breakfast. He would have to bestir himself. Stretching his hand across the table he picked up her little clenched fist. The hand on his script never left it, but that which held Dulcie's pride open her tense fingers one by one, checking off on them as on the little pigs that went to market. "Here's my pride, dear Pharaoh, and my plug-ugly stubbornness, all my hopes, past and future, every damn interest I have in life, all the action still left this battered heart—shut up safe and tight in this bunch!" He squeezed the fingers to a slim fist again, gave it a little shake and put it back on the table. Having done his duty he returned to his script.

"Well, then," She clutched her tallismen—a tallismen with rather a hard and long outline for that resting place—and took her plunge. "Well, if this lawyer can't find any way for us to do anything legally—then how do you feel about our making that break?"

Leland remained perfectly quiet. Except that his pencil began pressing dots on the cloth.

"I guess, after all, you were right to want to. The more I think of it the more I can see that if we went right into court, and told our side of it from the beginning, we'd win. No matter how papa might carry on! Because poor papa's never been a personality that got the sympathy!" She paused. "Only law does such crazy things! Scare me! But then, as you say, there's always Europe. Must be lots of people do live there."

This time she waited longer. "Only, before I quite step off the earth backwards and kick it out from under me, I want to be sure that you're still strong for it—that it's your break, too." She lifted her eyes solemnly to his.

It was much as if a squirrel, while eating from his hand, had looked up and asked him the question of the Sphinx.

He answered at last, "I'm against it, Kit."

She lost her breath, as you might lose yours if you had first hung back and now dashed forward, to find that you had dashed against a wall. "You're against it!"

"Dead."

"You've changed your mind?"

"You're friend the law's been changing it for me."

"You don't want to try it at all? But, Dan Leland, what's to become of us?"

"Got to rot on the beach, till we see a sail."

"But when? That's all I want to know in this world! When? When?"

"My dear," he said, "if we light out now, we haven't a chance. All the decisions lately are against us."

He was serious and sincere enough this time; Dulcie noted more so. "I've combed every likely looking haystack with my fingers—gone down every alley with a searchlight. Not the ghost of a show."

"Europe, either?"

"That was always a dream."

"All right. That's that."

She couldn't possibly be abject, because she was so cross. But with a mind racing fiercely along its single track, she didn't notice that though Leland motioned for the waiter to clear he did not ask for the bill. He ordered her horse, but not his.

Instantly obedient to any suggestion that he made, she rose when he did. Since he stood aside she passed him and went down the steps. When she was in her saddle and had taken the reins from his hands he and her sorrel strolled down the drive in such perfect accord that she didn't notice which of them had been first to start. Thus with one eye over his shoulder toward the drive's incurve, he steered her toward the sign that said: From the Casino—This Way Out.

Valentine Ball Is Brilliant Event at Driving Club

Congential parties honoring recent brides and grooms, debutantes and visitors featured the valentine ball at the Piedmont Driving Club Monday evening. Beautiful and appropriate decorations formed a colorful background for the brilliant occasion, which assembled several hundred members of fashionable society. Festoons of similar graced the stately columns and side walls intermingled with strings of red hearts. Suspended over the old-fashioned fireplace was a huge illuminated red heart pierced by a golden arrow. Similar electrically lighted hearts burned on either of the side walls. A beautiful floral decoration featured the adjoining salon, the lovely blooms including red and white carnations and roses.

Adorning the center of the individual tables at which dinner was served were potted plants of red and white hyacinths. Valentine favors, mints and ices added to the decorative scheme of the tables. An orchestra played popular airs during the evening interspersed with the old-fashioned tunes of yesteryear.

A congenial group dining together included Mrs. Anne Bates Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rosser, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Allen, Mr. and Mrs. H. East Lake Club Celebrates Valentine Day With Gala Ball

Valentine day at the East Lake Country club was celebrated with one of the most brilliant balls in the annals of the club. Four hundred guests assembled for dinner and dancing, the occasion proving one of the most gala affairs featuring the romantic day.

The clubhouse throughout was transformed into a scene of Valentine loveliness with the use of thousands of bright, red hearts. The brilliantly lighted ballroom had a canopy formed of crimson hearts, the entire ceiling being veiled with them. Two large hearts formed of fragrant crimson roses and tiny electric lights were placed at either end of the room. A similar heart occupying the space above the picture of Bobby Jones, the center of the club's pride and affection. The wall and ceiling lights were covered with attractive shades of red hearts.

Garlands of southern smilax covered the entire walls of the ballroom, the garlands interspersed with myriads of tiny red and green lights. Palms and ferns banded the doorways and window recesses.

The beautifully appointed tables at which the guests were seated for dinner, had central decorations of potted plants, including crimson begonias, freesias, and narcissi. Lovely French noelities of Valentine design formed attractive favors.

Among those who made reservations for the occasion are Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Franklin, Chick Eddley, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Robertson, William J. Nesbitt, W. A. Brewerton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Castor, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jarvis, H. H. Paxon, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Knight, Wallace Dailey, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Adams, Robert E. Hodgson, D. B. Elder, and Mrs. Frank Harrison, Mrs. J. C. Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Johnson, J. A. Ledbetter, E. W. Kline, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Tompkins and Mr. and Mrs. A. Beattie.

Children's Valentine Tea-Dance Given At Biltmore Hotel

The children's tea-dance Monday afternoon at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel celebrating the memory of St. Valentine was one of the most popular events of the week. The affair was held in the beautiful Georgian ballroom of the hotel from 4 until 6 o'clock.

The foyer at the entrance of the ballroom was attractively decorated with hearts and cupid. The post office was attractively decorated with rows of red hearts and cupid. A large heart shaped box where the guests mailed Valentines was in the post office and were delivered during the afternoon.

One of the most enjoyable and attractive features of the afternoon was the act by Charles A. Kitchings, Jr., who sang and played on the banjo. Mr. Kitchings is one of the most popular and most talented members of the younger set and his act was one of the most enjoyable on the program.

Another talented Alkanian among the younger social contingent was Miss Eugenia Snow, who gave a song and dance which was greeted by much applause and interest.

A specialty dance number by Miss Marie Pappenheimer and Harold Coolidge, Jr., was another attractive and enjoyable event. Miss Pappenheimer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pappenheimer, and Mr. Coolidge, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coolidge, are both popular students of Miss Margaret Bryan.

Tea and dancing was enjoyed from 4 until 6 o'clock by a large group of younger members of representative Atlanta families.

Alpha Omega Delphian Meets Next Wednesday.

The Alpha Omega Delphian chapter will hold its regular meeting Wednesday, February 16, at 8 o'clock in Rick's assembly room.

Joint Hosts Will Give Barn Dance At Fort McPherson

Lieutenant and Mrs. D. P. Lynch, Lieutenant and Mrs. M. W. Peck, Lieutenant and Mrs. Jesse Traywick, and Lieutenant and Mrs. W. L. Mitchell have issued invitations to a barn dance which will be a brilliant and unusual occasion taking place at the Officers Bridge club Monday evening, February 21.

The affair will assemble members of the army social contingent and a large group of Atlanta society.

Mrs. Peake Honors Her Little Daughter.

Mrs. Taylor Peake entertained at her home on Rosedale road Friday afternoon in honor of the seventh birthday of her little daughter, Anne Blythe Peake.

The little honor guest wore a "made dress" of yellow crepe embroidered in pastel shades. A shoulder covered of red sweet peas and valley lilies completed her pretty costume.

Games were enjoyed and a lollipop booth added much to the occasion and each child was presented a lollipop fan. The home was artistically decorated with cut flowers and ferns. The color scheme of red and white was carried out effectively in all the decorations. A large heart of sweet peas formed the centerpiece for the lace-covered table with unsh- candles lit with tulle. The ices, cakes and favors were suggestive of Valentines.

Mrs. Peake was assisted in entertaining the guests by her mother, Mrs. James R. Morris.

Those present were Sarah Frances Ewing, Jane Taylor, Nell and Margaret Winship, Miriam Dinwiddie, Betty Withers, Florrie and Frances Slesman, Margaret Pleasants, Phyllis Stacy, Frances Maloney, Marjorie Hames, Catherine Crabbe, Frances and Ruth Crabtree, Dorothy Brockman, Margaret Wright, Betty Cooke, John Hazen, Jr., Orville Bush, Jr., Thomas Addison, Jr., Roy and Bobbie Goree, Joe Tindall, Jr., A. Q. Smith, Jr., and Harry Binford, Jr.

Informal Tea Marks Opening of Junior League Tea Room

The Junior League tea room on the mezzanine floor of the new Medical Arts building, on Peachtree street at Forrest avenue, will be formally opened this afternoon when the Junior league members and their families and the doctors in the Medical Arts building and their wives will be entertaining informally at tea from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Receiving the guests will be the officers of the Junior league, who are: Mrs. Eugene R. Black, Jr., president; Mrs. Lewis Gregg, first vice president; Miss Margaret Nelson, second vice president; Miss Ellen Newell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Parker, recording secretary; Mrs. Philip Wilcox, treasurer, and Mrs. Robert Foreman, Jr., who is in charge of the waitresses.

Open for Business Wednesday. The tea room will be open for business and the first lunch served on Wednesday afternoon, February 16, from 12 until 3 o'clock. Delicious lunches with varied menus will be a specialty offered by the Junior league in its new tea room. No tips will be accepted. The tables will be daintily and attractively appointed, and tempting lunches will be served by the members of the Junior league wearing smocks and French peasant costumes.

Attractive Decorations. The decorative scheme of the tea room—a French peasant's home—has been most charmingly and effectively carried out in every detail. The architectural design with its low-beamed ceiling and groups of small windows lending the needed background. Giving the effect of a French peasant's home is the open fireplace with its antique brass fire tongs, kettle, corner cupboard and racks holding old china, clay pots, jugs and odd pieces of ware and plate and spoon racks. The primary colors, red, green and blue, will form the bases of the gay chintz pattern for window draperies.

This philanthropic undertaking launched by the Atlanta Junior league is a step forward in the social and civic life of Atlanta. Its success depends entirely upon the patronage and support of the public, to whom a cordial invitation is extended through the medium of the press, to lunch in this hospitable tea room every day from 12 until 3 o'clock.

Miss Stanton's Work On View Next Sunday.

The Atlanta Art association has issued invitations to meet Miss Lucy Stanton and to privately view her oil paintings and miniatures at the High Museum of Art, 1092 Peachtree street, Sunday afternoon, February 20, from 5 to 7 o'clock.

Keep Thin To Keep Young

Fight excess fat, whatever else you do for youth, beauty and vitality. Fat is not popular today.

Some fight fat by strenuous exercise, some by starvation diet. But the fight is hard and never-ending.

Millions have learned to fight it with Marmola Prescription Tablets. They correct the cause. This is the easy, pleasant way.

Marmola has been used for 19 years. The use has grown, through proved results, until people are using a very large amount. You see the results wherever you look. You can learn them by inquiring of your friends. Excess fat is not nearly so common as it was.

Some wonder if such results can be accomplished without harm. The evidence is everywhere. Countless people know that Marmola brings benefits other than reduction. It could not live and prosper for nearly two decades without that.

Learn what Marmola does. Watch the gradual but constant reduction. Watch the new vitality that comes. Then tell your friends. Tell them how easy it is to reduce in the right way. Go start today.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

Women's Hygienic Habits

Being greatly changed—New way discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. HUCKLAND, Registered Nurse

OLD-TIME "sanitary pads" are rapidly disappearing, because of a new way called KOTEX, that 8 in 10 better class women now employ.

Kotex discards as easily as tissue. Thus no laundry, no embarrassment of disposal.

Being 5 times as absorbent as ordinary cotton "pads," it permits lightest gowns and frocks without slightest fear. Dance, motor, go about for hours without a moment's doubt. And it deodorizes; thus ending all fear of odor.

Box of 12 costs only a few cents. Be sure you get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

Luncheon and Tea Will Compliment Prominent Artists

Miss Gladys Hanson, Atlanta's most charming dramatic star, who is appearing at Erlanger's this week with William Hodge in "The Judge's Husband," will be honor guest at the luncheon given Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Hopkins at the Capital City club.

Miss Hanson is the distinguished guest of her father, Colonel Peyton H. Snook, at his home on Cleburne avenue, and is being celebrated a hearty welcome by a large circle of friends. Her work in this successful play has been highly commended by critics all over the United States, declaring her to be one of the foremost actresses of America.

An especial guest of the occasion will be Miss Ellis Baker, leading lady of the Forsyth Players.

Apropos of the observance of National Drama week, February 13 to 19, the Atlanta Drama league will entertain at a tea this afternoon at the Atlanta Woman's club, honoring two distinguished dramatic artists, Miss Hanson and Mr. Hodge.

Miss Hanson, who is a dramatic artist of rare ability, will talk informally to the members of the league upon this occasion, as will Mr. Hodge, stressing the drama as an interpretive medium.

Mrs. A. Ten Eyck Brown, president of the Drama league, announces that tea will be served in the palm room of the clubhouse at 3:30 o'clock, and all members of the organization are invited.

DIGESTIVE DISORDERS FROM OVER-EATING

"In bringing up a family of young children," says Mrs. E. G. Green, of Jasper, Fla., "it is necessary to have on hand some reliable medicine which will give quick relief in cases of over-eating and digestive disorders. I have found that Thedford's Black-Draught can always be depended upon. We could hardly keep house without it."

"I was troubled with bad spells of sick headache. Sometimes I would have to go to bed for hours. Everything would feel black before my eyes and I would get dizzy and dull. A friend told me about Black-Draught, and that is how I began to use it, for myself and in my family."

"Since the first time I took it, about twelve years ago, I have tried to keep a package of it always in the house. I get over a bad spell of indigestion quickly after taking it and find immediate relief from constipation."

"Once, one of my children, a little girl of three, was suffering from an acute attack of indigestion. I gave her a dose of Black-Draught and she was soon all right again."

"I can heartily recommend Black-Draught as a reliable medicine."

Black-Draught cleanses the system in a natural way, driving out the accumulated poisons caused by indigestion and constipation.

In use over 85 years. Sold by all druggists; 25c and $1.

'Valentine Revue' To Be Staged By Southern Bell Employees

The high light features of the "Valentine Revue," to be given this evening under auspices of the Southern Bell Telephone employees, assisted by the Bell orchestra, will be the blonde and brunette chorus, composed of pretty telephone girls, possessing exquisite voices. This revue, scheduled as one of the most elaborate amateur entertainments ever presented in Atlanta, for which rehearsals have been in progress for several weeks, takes place at the Atlanta theater.

Program Numbers.

There will be dancing and musical specialties, comedy skits and other features of an attractive character. Among the feature numbers on the program are "Love's Serenade," Vaughn Omer and Irah Hesterly; "The Valentine Mail," J. C. Baldwin, Edna Stenmons, J. E. Ragin, Edna Baker, Sara McKinney, Evelyn Bentley, Ned Euker, Francis Burns and blonde chorus composed of Claudine Seymour, Mildred Mace, Julia Coll, Ella Mozen, Mae Henry, Bertha Kellogg, Edith Mable, Eleanor Cartin, Virginia Peterson, Lottie Holcomb, Ruby Stroup, Mrs. J. D. Cooper, Miss Hoss, George Hall, Bertha Merritt and Rosamond Smith. Novelty sketch by Bob Chapman.

Dances of a century. Tableau: Vaughn Omer, Irah Hesterly, Willie Maud Allen, Hazel Conner and Virginia Coppock. Dancers: Minnie, Daisy Dennis and J. P. Bender; polka, Rose Neal and K. D. Cooper; waltz, Jane Fornara and Roy Freeman; two-step, Susanne Springer and W. C. Brock; "Merry Widow Waltz," Grace Boyd and Harry Cassidy; bunny hug, Ma-

Methodists In Druid Hills Form Junior Church

While many Atlanta churches have various organizations for the young people, the teen-age as well as the older set which is always designated the "young people," it remained for the Druid Hills Methodist church to be the first church in the city to organize the first "junior church" for its very young people, the children from two and three years of age up to the teen age.

The idea of a junior church was originated by Mrs. Russell, the wife of Dr. Russell, the new pastor of the Druid Hills Methodist church. Mrs. Russell and her husband came to the Druid Hills church from Nashville, Tenn., and began their work with this church in the fall of 1926. Mrs. Russell organized the junior church for the children some time ago, and it has proven wonderfully successful. This organization has its officers just like the senior church and its services are conducted in the same manner as the services of the senior organization with the singing of hymns, prayers and a sermon just like their elders. Some of the children who are studying for the ministry always give the children a sermon in clear, simple language that the smallest child can understand.

The children are so enthused over their organization that the members of the senior organization will have to look to their laurels else the junior church will outstrip the senior church. Already one mother has been called to task for not attending the senior church. Her young son, who is a faithful attendant of the junior church, informed her that if he could attend church, he certainly thought she ought to do the same.

Parents of the Druid Hills Methodist church will certainly have to watch their step in the future, else their children will be setting them an example in attending church services.

Miss Ella Smith Honors Miss Mitchell.

Miss Ella Smith was hostess at a bridge-tennis Monday afternoon at her home on Northwood drive in compliment to Miss Bessie Mitchell, whose marriage to H. Clay Moore, Jr., takes place February 22.

Spring flowers decorated the apartments where the card game was played and tea was served afterward.

Golf Association To Hold Tournament on Wednesday.

The Atlanta Women's Golf association will hold its tournament of the season at Ansley Park Golf club Wednesday morning, February 16, at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. John Hill, president of the association, requests all entrants to be on the first tee at 8:45 o'clock.

Short Business Session Calls U. D. C. Members.

A short business session will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock preceding the Valentine party which the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., will give in honor of the Women's Pioneer society, and the ladies of the "sixties." Members are urged to be present at the hour named.

The Valentine party will be a most joyous occasion, featuring a reading by Mrs. Chauncey Smith and music by the guests, and an old-fashioned Valentine cake, heart-shaped, with icing of lacy design, simulating the Valentine, and the cake will be cut to find the ring, thimble and other symbols.

Mrs. Stafford Seidel, president of the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., will receive, assisted by the officers of the chapter, including Mrs. J. M. High, Mrs. Frank Mason, Mrs. Cleve Webb, Mrs. T. F. Hemminger, Mrs. Lola Walker, Mrs. M. Moreland Spear, Mrs. J. N. Bateman, Mrs. B. K. Boyd and Mrs. Chauncey Smith.

As it is impossible to reach each and every one of the ladies in whose honor this party has been planned, it is requested that each member of the chapter assist in notifying them of the occasion.

Federal Reserve Bank Club Elects Officers.

On February 8 the Federal Reserve Bank club elected the following officers: R. A. Radford was elected president over Carl Miles and DeWitt Adams; Mrs. Andrew Cranford elected vice president over several candidates. Miss Louise Sturdivant defeated Miss Minnie Mae Rodgers for secretary and Peter Lallende gained a close victory over J. M. Hartsough for treasurer. The officers elected to serve on the governing board were: M. W. Bell, R. S. Sims, V. W. Bowman, Mrs. Forrest Godfrey, Mrs. Charles Darr, P. L. T. Beavers, C. R. Camp, T. A. Lanford.

A dance followed the election in the bank cafeteria, after which refreshments were served.

Merry Needle Club Holds Meeting.

Mrs. M. A. Belter was hostess to the Merry Needle club Wednesday. Those present were Mrs. J. A. Allen, Mrs. Harry Greer, Mrs. C. E. McCrary, Mrs. W. H. Chambers, Mrs. Forrest Godfrey, Mrs. Charles Darr, Mrs. J. B. Morgan and Mrs. E. L. Gifford, Sr.

Mrs. Marvin Dodson and Mrs. H. E. Delany were two new members taken in at this time.

Mrs. Godfrey and Mrs. McCrary received numerous gifts in honor of their birthdays.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. E. S. Cook at her home, 91 Atlanta avenue, S. E.

George Washington Tea To Be Given At Woman's Club

Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith will preside at the Friday tea, February 18, at the Atlanta Woman's club, at 3:45 o'clock, when a beautiful patriotic feature in the nature of a George Washington tea, will be given. Mrs. W. S. Coleman, chairman of program will sponsor the tea assisted by the officers and past presidents of the club. Mrs. J. R. Hornady, Mrs. DeLoe Hill, Mrs. E. V. Carter, Mrs. J. A. Carlisle, Mrs. D. F. Stevenson, Mrs. Eva S. Corrigan, Mrs. W. D. Williamson, Mrs. Joel Hunter, Mrs. J. K. Otley, Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, Mrs. Bolling J. Lee, Mrs. Hamilton Douglas, Mrs. Woods White, Mrs. A. P. Cole, Mrs. J. N. McEachern, Mrs. Irving Thomas, Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, and Mrs. Norman Sharp.

Mrs. A. P. Brantley, president of Georgia Federation Women's clubs, and Mrs. J. M. High, noble American and highly esteemed citizen of Atlanta, will be honor guests on this occasion and invited to meet them are Mrs. Clifford Walker, Mrs. I. N. Ragdale, Mrs. Oscar Palmer, Mrs. R. K. Rambo, and heads of the various patriotic organizations, Mrs. Joseph R. Lamar, Mrs. Stafford Seidel, Mrs. C. L. Anderson, Mrs. Lucius McConnell, Mrs. Charles Lorinda, Mrs. William A. Wright, Mrs. Charles F. Rice, Mrs. Wilmer Moore, Mrs. Charles Davis, Mrs. W. L. Barnes, Mrs. Sam D. Jones, Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, Mrs. A. O. Woodward, and Miss Mary Steadwell.

Mrs. Victor Clark, will be in charge of the musical program, and has secured Mrs. H. Norton Sullivan, well-known pianist, who will render a group of songs, accompanied by Mrs. Clark. Beautiful patriotic decorations, interspersed with spring flowers of many hues, will lend an appropriate setting for the banquet hall.

Many reservations have been made and as this will be one of the outstanding events of the week, many are urged to make reservations promptly, by calling Mrs. Simmons, HEMlock 0225, or Mrs. Joseph Smith, HEMlock 5803.

Col. Peel's Passing Deplored At Woman's Club Meeting

The adoption of a resolution introduced by Mrs. Charles J. Haden, deploring the passing of Atlanta's beloved citizen and philanthropist, Colonel William Lawson Peel, interesting talks, infused with sentiment and homage to womankind, and a charming musical program were the salient features of the meeting of the Atlanta Woman's club on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, president, presided in a most gracious manner and in her remarks spoke of the origin and custom of sending Valentines and to womankind on this day, for her love, service and loyalty to mankind.

Introduced Speaker.

The Rev. Dr. C. R. Stauffer, pastor of the First Christian church, paid fitting tribute to womankind in his interesting talk on the "Sentimentality of Womanhood."

A delightful program of music was presented by E. W. Wilson, who will dances peculiar to those countries which they will represent.

Mrs. Price-Smith urged those present to take advantage of the wonderful opportunity to register for the classes being conducted by Mrs. Lucy Stanton, noted artist and lecturer. The classes are under the auspices of the art department of the club, of which Mrs. H. J. Gaertner is chairman.

Tea was served by Mrs. M. L. Throver, Mrs. DeLoe Hill, Mrs. Victor Kriegerhaber and Mrs. J. E. Miller. Mrs. C. H. Brandon was in charge of decorations.

Methodist Council To Be Reorganized.

The elementary council of the Methodist Sunday schools of the north and south districts will be reorganized at a mass meeting held Tuesday evening, February 15, at 7:30 o'clock at the Trinity Methodist church.

Dr. Willis Sutton, Rev. Homer Thompson, superintendent of the North Georgia conference; Miss Mary Lemmon, elementary superintendent of the North Georgia conference, will be the principal speakers on the program.

Mrs. W. R. Jester, former president of the council, will preside at the devotional services will be conducted by Rev. Marvin Franklin, pastor of Park Street Methodist church.

The election and installation of the new officers will be an important issue of the meeting. All Methodists of the city who are interested in this line of work are cordially invited to be present.

Mrs. Hines Roberts Honored at Parties.

Mrs. Frank R. Reade was hostess Monday afternoon at an informal bridge luncheon at her home on Peachtree road in honor of Mrs. Hines Roberts, a recent bride, who was before her marriage, Miss Della Johnston.

Spring flowers decorated the apartments and tea was served at the individual card tables, each of which was daintily appointed.

Mrs. James Houston Johnston will entertain at a tea Tuesday at her home on Peachtree place, honoring her daughter, Mrs. Roberts.

Golden Peacock Bleach Creme

Best Way to Loosen Stubborn Cough

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick relief of colds and whooping coughs.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love it.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaracolin, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

PINEX for Coughs

Kill that skin eruption at the start

Neglect of even the slightest skin rash, roughness, or chafing may have serious consequences. Painful, disfiguring complaints like eczema, stubborn sores, etc., all start in a small way. The salicyl plan is to keep a jar of Resinol Ointment ready to use at the first sign of skin trouble. It promptly stops itching and reduces inflammation and burning. The tiny pores readily receive this soothing ointment, and its healing influence is carried far below the surface of the skin.

Church Members

Invited To Attend
Y. W. C. A. Tea

An interesting event of the week will be the Valentine tea this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock, at which the membership committee of the Y. W. C. A. will entertain members of the churches of Atlanta. This affair, which will take place at the new Y. W. C. A. building at 37 Auburn avenue, is expected to assemble several hundred visitors from the various churches of the city.

Prominently featured on the musical program which has been arranged for the afternoon will be Mrs. W. O. Chears, who will sing a group of songs accompanied by Mrs. Charles Chalmers, who will sing with Mrs. W. R. McCollum at the piano. Miss Emily Harrell, gifted young violinist, will also play, accompanied by Mrs. McCollum.

The general invitation that has been issued to this party is the announcement through the press and Mrs. B. L. Bug, chairman of the committee, urges that all members of all the churches of Atlanta take this opportunity of visiting the new building and becoming acquainted with the leaders of the Y. W. C. A. The entire building will be thrown open for inspection during the afternoon and there will be swimming and gymnasium classes in session open to the observation of the guests. Members of the Girl Reserves will act as ushers in showing the building.

Working with Mrs. Bug in arranging the details of the tea are Mrs. Houston Johnston, in charge of ushers; Mrs. John H. Mullin, program; Mrs. Frank Fair, invitations; Mrs. E. H. Palmer, decorations; Miss Elizabeth Young, refreshments; Mrs. Glenn Ryan, publicity. The receiving line will include members of the board of directors, with Mrs. S. F. Warm Welcome Given Clever Comedy With Brilliant Stars

It was a combination welcoming party and delightful stage entertainment, which was provided at the Erlanger last night for the delectation of an audience which practically filled the new playhouse. A remarkable audience, in fact, for such a performance.

The welcome was to Gladys Hanson, Atlanta's own beloved star, who was playing as leading woman with William Hodge. Then another big part of the welcome was for Mr. Hodge himself, who is one of the most perfect of modern performers and who, in a play of which he is also author, found a character role perfectly suited to his peculiar type of delineation.

And, last but not least, Atlanta welcomed a comedy that is witty, clever, amusing, with a touch of pathos here and there, and which is spotlessly clean. Even a Broadway policeman-censor could find nothing wrong with this.

Two Curtain Speeches

There were, without making actual count, at least seven big floral tributes passed over the footlights to Miss Hanson at the end of the second act.

Then Mr. Hodge made her come out and make a little extemporaneous speech at her own. She told us how she loved her birthplace, Atlanta, and the people in it, then she choked a little bit and bowed beautifully.

Then the audience persisted until Mr. Hodge made a speech himself. It was mostly about Miss Hanson and it may be summed up in the tribute he paid her in staid language—the most perfect tribute one performer can give another—“She is the best trouper I ever knew.”

The play itself is entertaining for every minute of the performance. It is woven around a woman who becomes a judge, and who, therefore, neglects her home, her husband and daughter. About the husband who adopts the abandoned role of housekeeper and his trials and tribulations. It is about a husband, beloved and misunderstood who himself gives the clue when he says to his daughter, “Back right, don't let anything happen that you can't blame on me.”

Unique Scene.

There is a unique scene, the second, where the woman judge sits in judgment on her own divorce case and, later, is plaintiff, judge and witness combined. It is cleverly written, cleverly done and well received.

It is all coming right in the end, of course. You know it by the end, but you enjoy every minute of the process and you leave the theater with a delicious taste of irreproachable enjoyment around your heart.

possible more beautiful every year. She is, beyond a doubt, a most beautiful woman and, at the same time, an accomplished performer. She gets everything to be gotten out of her part.

Mr. Hodge is, as always, himself. It is the most natural style of acting the stage has ever known and, by the same mark, the most appealing and lovable.

Excellent Cast.

The rest of the cast is excellently suited to its parts. The daughter, played by Ruth Lyons, is a charming girl and has evidently studied the naturalness of her star to good effect in her own work. Then Phillip Rhodes Thorne, as the juvenile, is a likeable and clean-cut boy.

Jessie Crommette is splendid in a character role, as the maid as are Dorothy Walters, Mark Sullivan and Marie Haynes in other sharply defined characterizations. Richard Gordon makes a polished villain, with a mild sort of villain that nevertheless induces you to dislike the character thoroughly.

It is one of the cleanest, one of the happiest and one of the most attractive little comedies of the season. And it will almost squeeze a tear toward the end. Three more performances: Tonight, Wednesday night and matinee. You'll miss something good if you don't see it.

Sale of Wide's Services T. K. C. Being Probed

New York, February 14.—The exploitation of Edwin Wide's virtual sale of his services to the Knights of Columbus for $1,000 is under investigation by the Amateur Athletic Union.

Murray Hulbert, president of the A. A. U., informed the United News Monday night that the amateur status of the Swedish runner is not questioned, however.

The investigation is not of the visiting athlete's amateurism, but of a deal whereby the United Swedish societies accepted $1,000 worth of tickets for the K. of C. games on March 17 in exchange for permission for Wide to compete.

A report from the chairman of the foreign relations committee of the A. A. U. is awaited. Meanwhile any remaining doubt has been stricken from the facts surrounding Wide's visit to this country, and the whole business of commercializing the amateur athlete has been exposed.

The facts are these:

1. Edwin Wide, heralded as the conqueror of Paavo Nurmi, came to the United States and agreed to run at an indoor meet sponsored by the United Swedish societies on March 20.

2. The Knights of Columbus covered the runner's services by drawing card for the annual K. of C. games on St. Patrick's day.

3. A proposal by the United Swedish societies to exchange dates with the K. of C. so that Wide could make his first competitive appearance for the benefit of his own countrymen, was rejected.

4. The K. of C. proposed, however, to compensate the U. S. S. for whatever diminution of Wide's drawing power would be occasioned by his competing on March 17 by turning over to the K. of C. $1,000 worth of tickets for the St. Patrick's day games.

Unethical? Oh, no!

There was nothing unethical about the deal, and there was nothing about the recently exposed proposal of bantamweight champion Charles (Phil) Rosenberg that Rusby Graham, of Atlanta, hand over a large share of the prize money to the K. of C. to the titleholder for entering the ring.

The United Swedish societies indicated that they had a lien on Wide's services, and the K. of C. paid the price.

Without Wide, the United Swedish societies' indoor meet wouldn't amount to much. The edge would be taken off his drawing power at the box of fire if he competed in a previous meet.

The K. of C. is influential, however, and $1,000 is a good price for a good money for an amateur's services.

Wide, as far as can be seen, played his part in good faith, believing that a good Swede deserves another. He refused from getting into “condition to give my best” until the United Swedish societies could find a vacant date on the Madison Square calendar.

But the Swedes sold him down the river to the Knights of Columbus. Uncle Tom was the first amateur.

Johnson and Davis led the Grant Park Baptists to the victory over the Grace Methodists. The game was fast as it was one-sided. The Grace boys were on the bottom from the start and never had a chance against the shooting of the Grant Park forwards. Perkerson and Ebert contributed a little good work for Grace but it was unassisted.

St. Luke's Episcopal kept their slate clean by downing the Triple E. class, in a one-sided affair. The league leaders used two complete lineups during the game and both worked well. Bumstead showed up best for the starting quintet while Wilkinson took honors for the relief squad. The passing and shooting of the St. Luke's players was simply too good for Triple E. to compete with.

1927 Playing Schedule Is Drafted by Southern League

Efforts of Majors To Assist Minor Loops Are Lauded

Schedule Is Completed and Will Be Made Public in Two Weeks—Two New Presidents in Association—Miller Again Appointed.

New Orleans, February 14.—(AP)—Southern association officials, busy here in assembling numerical blocks into a complete official 1927 playing schedule, laid aside their labors tonight temporarily to attend a banquet as guests of the New Orleans Baseball club.

Immediately afterward, they returned to the laborious task of working out the playing schedule. President John D. Martin, of Memphis, indicated that, in view of the possibility of Sunday baseball being permitted in Little Rock, the task of the officials might be expanded to include the working out of a second tentative schedule to care for this contingency.

'Monkey' Tournament Will Start Wednesday

BY TOM THOMPSON.

The deferred date of the big golf and noise carnival of the Atlanta Women's Golf association has been definitely decided. The dishpan festival will be staged at Ansley Park golf course Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, weather not forbidding.

The entire roster of the Atlanta Women's association is expected to turn out for the nine-hole jaunt, in which case 52 women will be entered. However, the hullabaloo has not been restricted to members of the association, every single woman in Atlanta interested in tees, traps and bunkers and the best manner in which to sum up the latter, is expected to invite herself to the conglomeration of golf and glee.

It has been decided to make the monkey tournament, for that is what it is, a nine-hole affair. One reason advanced for this is that with the large field entered, and the discomfort expected, the teams would probably go out in three digit figures and come in in the dark were it to be made an 18-hole round.

Important Decision. Aside from the ludicrous aspects of the case, there is one serious view to be taken of the monkey tournament. It will decide, and quite effectively, whether the sour old duffer is right in raising his manner of calm when he misses a three-foot putt because somebody has made undue noise as he was in the act of tapping the ball.

Everybody knows the type. He lays on the forepart of his anatomy and squints along the course his ball is most likely to take. Then he takes his oversize putter and patiently takes the green on the surveyed course. He takes his stance, wags his club 15 or 20 times and finally makes an ineffectual slap. Just as he is in the act of slapping, the restless 'addy holding the pin bangles his leg and the clubs battle. The try stops short and a blue wrath, having its origin in a flood of wrathful profanity, immediately becomes visible.

Well, if the entrants in the monkey tournament are able to make one single decent shot then the duffer must forever banish sporadic outbursts.

Officials of the Women's association, after a conversation with Tommy Wilson, Ansley park's genial and capable pro, decided that should Tuesday remain fair the course would be given opportunity to overcome the devastation of three days' rain. With the field entered, a fast course will provide its favor in one way or another, for some of these women can shoot Ansley park in a manner that loads of its male members rightfully envy.

Entry List. With Mrs. Helen Dargen Lowndes captaining one team and Mrs. Clarence Bradley the other, the following is the entry list as of Monday:

Mrs. John Hill, Mrs. T. T. Williams, Miss Rosalie Mayer, Miss Jimmie Patterson, Mrs. L. H. Beck, Miss Margaret Maddox, Mrs. J. E. Jago, Mrs. W. D. Cook, Mrs. H. K. Humphrey, Mrs. F. B. Partin, Mrs. Webb, Mrs. Tommy Wilson, Mrs. L. Warren Granade, Mrs. Elmer McAniff, Mrs. C. W. Strickler, Mrs. A. GRANT PARK CAGERS BEAT OAKLAND CITY

All games in the Epworth league, played at the Wesley Memorial Monday night, were won by large scores. Oakland City lost to Grant Park, 21 to 13; Calvary easily disposed of Kirkwood, 23 to 7, and in the only girls' game played, St. John ran over Druid Hills, 24 to 8.

Miss S. Barber, of St. John, was the heroine for her side with 14 of the 24 points scored. Miss Barber annexed a large total of field goals and turned in a good record for floor work.

The Oakland City-Grant Park boys' scrap was the only game that came anywhere near being close. Sorrells and Lanford, of the winning side, scored in the best performances, each scoring a total of seven points.

Y HOUSE CAGE LOOP REACHES THIRD ROUND

The third round of the "Y" House Basketball league was reached Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. with three fast and interesting games played.

The Fifth Cavaliers easily defeated the Eight Terrors, 34 to 5. Endicott led the Cavaliers' attack, playing a good floor game and piling up a total of 22 points for his night work.

Plaxico also aided the winners with his timely jumping at center and all-around play.

Displaying a fast passing attack and shooting goals from all angles, the Third Musketeers defeated the Seventh Wonders, 21 to 7. Spencer led his team's attack, shooting a total of 15 of the points and playing a good game.

In the last game of the evening, the Sixth Ramblers overcame the Fifth Cavaliers, 22 to 5, in a close and listless game. The Cavaliers shot goals almost at will and kept the ball out of the hands of their opponents most of the time.

22nd Infantry Enters Shoot

The Twenty-second infantry has accepted the invitation to file Seventh infantry station I at Vancouver Barracks, Washington, to participate in the small bore championships of the U. S. army. The matches will be fired on March 2, 1927, by all regiments of the army who have small bore rifle teams. The results will then be telegraphed to the headquarters of the Seventh infantry and score cards mailed the next day.

The course to be fired will be 10 shots prone, sitting, kneeling and standing. The championships are open only to regular regiments.

Some of the candidates for the team will be Lieutenants Bryant, Purcell and Saffarans; Sergeants Lay, Cooper and McMillan; Privates Hakkio, Van Smith, Adcock, Edwards and Menna; Corporals Lindley and Massey.

HAWK-EYE-ING SPORTS

BY DICK HAWKINS.

Competition Comes to Life.

We are notified by Al Martin of the Atlanta boxing commission that steps will be taken to formulate rules for wrestlers performing in Atlanta rings with the object of preventing undue roughness.

Such a move deserves nothing but commendation. A recent match between Rough Richard Daviscourt, who takes pride in his much touted ability to out-rough opponents, and Jim Browning, who takes pride in his ability to meet roughness with roughness, was anything but a wrestling match and while it appealed to many staid spectators as a great exhibition it was by no stretch of the imagination a wrestling match.

If wrestlers care to win their battles by the use of fists they should be matched with gloves rather than having their efforts billed as wrestling. Such a travesty as was witnessed at the city auditorium two weeks ago when Browning and Daviscourt battled can do no possible good for the game.

Such matches as were seen when the two above named gentlemen met are not by any means the rule in Promoter Contos' shows and such rulings as the commission plans to make would be needless in most of the matches where contestants are engaged who know the rules of the ring and observe them. But if the commission would make a set of rules for wrestlers to follow there would be even fewer of the grapplers resorting to questionable tactics and the result would be a greater preponderance of real wrestling—what the fans pay their money to see. There may be a few fans who prefer a fight to a wrestling match when the latter is on the bill but most of the customers would rather see clean wrestling where brains and skill are pitted without the reinforcement of unfair tactics.

The commission is also making a good move in its plan to look carefully into the records of prize fighters who are billed for appearance in Atlanta. The arbiters of the many art of self-defense are now probing the past of Homer Smith who is billed to fight Young Stribling here on February 22. An investigation which should bear some fruit. Smith is not inexperienced but if he has not done a Mike McTigue he is a "has been."

This matter of matching inexperienced boxers is quite legitimate if they are billed as such but the billing of ham-and-egggers as championship material may be potentially true but materially deceiving.

Poor Kenneth.

This day of the year dedicated to the ghost of St. Valentine is all but past and to most of us it has been a day of receiving allegedly funny postcards but to one member of The Constitution staff of photographers it was a day of nemesis.

On this day when the patron saint of Love should be interloctor and the stage should be set with violets and other tokens of Dan Cupid there came a valentine to Kenneth Rogers, photographer of parts, a reminder of an error of omission committed some weeks ago when Kenneth was wooing the goddess of slumber on a cold snowy morning.

This is how it all came about: Several weeks ago Atlanta awoke on a frosty morning to find the landscape reposing under a blanket of snow and it was the business of the photographers to "shoot their stuff" in pictures of the unusual incident. But that same morning found poor Kenneth reposing under a blanket (not snow however) and when he awoke to the situation the snow had gone the way of all good snow. A great opportunity was lost.

This incident was believed closed but today on the day when Love reigns supreme (maybe) there came a valentine with the following inscription:

The north wind does blow
And we shall have snow
And what will dear Kenneth do then?
He will stay in his bed—covers over his head,
And forget he's a news cameraman.

HISTORY OF YOUNGER ZBYSZKO LIKE NOVEL

Considered from all angles Wladek Zbyszko, who opposes Carl Vafel in one of the preliminary wrestling matches at the city auditorium Thursday night, is one of the most interesting and unique athletic personages, who has visited Atlanta. Zbyszko in addition to being a wrestler of note is qualified to practice law and speaks eight different languages.

Zbyszko is a graduate of one of the leading universities of Vienna and in addition to a varied education has enhanced his knowledge by considerable travel in foreign countries. Zbyszko speaks, writes and reads English, Polish, French, Spanish, Russian, Italian and German.

Zbyszko after completing his education was admitted to the bar in Vienna, but found that he could make more money punishing wrestling opponents than he could by saving other men from legal punishment.

Wladek holds the unique distinction of winning the world's heavyweight wrestling title from Stanislaus Zbyszko, his brother, but shortly after annexing the crown Wladek was defeated in a title match and according to reports that he is still in effect. Ever since Joe Stecher came into possession of the championship he has kept away from Zbyszko, despite his repeated efforts to get a bout with the grappler, who applies the body scissors so effectively.

Ed Lewis dodged to meet Zbyszko who he was champion and according to reports that he is still in effect. Ever since Joe Stecher came into possession of the championship he has kept away from Zbyszko, despite his repeated efforts to get a bout with the grappler, who applies the body scissors so effectively.

Zbyszko, who weighs 220 pounds, is one of the strongest and most skilled grapplers in the game today and he is favored to win from Vafel in their one hour preliminary scrap Thursday night.

Smithies and Typists Meet for Crown Today

Tech High will meet Commercial High at the Athletic club this afternoon at 3:30 for the 1927 city prep Both teams finished their preparations Monday afternoon, and today's game, first of a series of three, promises to be a hard fought tilt from start to finish.

The Smithies and Commercial have each been defeated once during the routine of play in the prep loop, but their records for the season stand high above those of other teams. Tech High bowed to G. M. A. towards the last of the season, but picked up enough to give Boys' High a decisive drubbing to win the title in class A.

No changes are expected to be made in lineups of either squad, and the coaches will shoot their best men in the games.

Commercial will depend upon the goal shooting ability of Balser and Millender to harvest a large number

BOXING BOUTS AT FORT MAC GAIN INTEREST

The elimination bouts scheduled for Tuesday evening, February 15, are arousing much interest at Fort McPherson. Almost every company has a representative entered and the particular rooting at the fights will be as interesting as the bouts themselves.

Avera of company "B" is getting into good shape for his fight with Starnes, of headquarters company, but the latter is not taking the fight lightly. He is training daily and hopes to be able to whip Avera and make the heavyweight place on a card that the athletic officer is planning in the near future.

Hubbs, of Company "B" and Sams, of the brigade headquarters company, will mix it in one of the feature bouts. This will be one of the best on the card.

Special interest attaches itself to the bout between Jess Smith, of Company "D" and Young Carter, of Company "B." Jess has a troublesome left which will puzzle Carter, although Mr. Carter has a manager who says he is not worrying.

Newton, of brigade headquarters company has dropped out of the bout with Billy West and Packer, of the Signal corps meets the latter in his place. Packer has been a good fighter in the past and hopes to come back and fill a permanent place on these boxing cards.

Wimber, known as "Little Jeff," is down to 120 pounds for his fight with Sista, of brigade headquarters company. This bout should be a hummer. A battle royal with Cowboy Kid and the Post Exchange Shine as the star entrants should be very interesting.

Eddie Hanlon, the well known Atlanta arbiter, will referee the bouts.

POLICY FIVES WILL FINISH PLAY TONIGHT

Unless a tie develops in the Insurance league, which from all indications appears to be the final outcome of the race, this league will write finis across the horizon for its 1926-27 basketball season tonight, when the six teams play the final scheduled game of the season. Anyway it will be the final league games for three or four of the six, and maybe all eight will have finished its season. All teams in the league will play at the court of the Atlanta Athletic club.

At present, Insurance Company of North America and Fireman's Fund Insurance Co. are tied for the lead, with the Southeastern Underwriters Association resting in third place only one game behind the leaders.

Southeastern meets North America in the feature game, and should Southeastern manage to make the worm turn for them, and Hartford again upsets the dope, should they defeat the Fireman's Fund five, then the race will end in a muddle. Anyway developments will be worth watching, and as anything can happen, the worst is yet to come. Commercial Union and Royal Insurance Co. wind up the evening's entertainment.

Should both Fireman's Fund and North America win their games, then a tie will be the result, and whether or not the officials of the league will see fit to order a play off is yet to be announced.

The Schedule.
Southeastern Underwriters vs. Insurance Company of North America, 7:30 p. m.
Fireman's Fund vs. Hartford, 8:30 p. m.
Commercial Union vs. Royal, 9:30 p. m.

South Carolinians Beat V. M. I., 42-40

Lexington, Va., February 14.—(AP) The South Carolina today defeated V. M. I., 42 to 40, here today in a game that the cadets led all the way until a few minutes before the final whistle.

With three minutes to play, the Carolinians tied the score to take the long end of the count, 30 seconds before the game ended.

Harner, V. M. I., with 19 points, and Fair, South Carolina, with 17 markers, were the high scorers.

Half time found the Cadets leading, 27 to 23.

Browning In Line.
Contos also calls attention to the fact that Browning has beaten practically all of the other leading contenders for the championship and that he therefore was in line for a crack at the title.

Regardless of whether or not he wins the match Browning is admirably equipped to give Stecher a royal good time, one in which the champion and also makes much of the fact that Browning's head scissors is as effective as the champion's body scissors.

This is the second time this year that Stecher has appeared in Atlanta, but that fact seems to be boosting the ticket sale, rather than cutting it. Contos Monday reported that there was a good demand for seats and that practically everybody making their purchases Monday wanted seats as close to the ring as possible.

J. P. C. Basketeers Defeat Oglethorpe Cagers by 35 to 19

Petrels Take Early Lead But Club Aces Begin Dropping Counters and Soon Overcome Birds' Margin—Hirsch Leads Club Scorers With 17 Points.

BY TOM THOMPSON.

Coming from behind in the first half the basketeers of the Jewish Progressive club led at the half point and walked away on the home stretch to down the Oglethorpe Petrels at the Progressive club Monday night, 35-19. The score at the half read like the final tally in a girls' game, it being 14-8, J. P. C.

However, the spectators were satisfied with fast and rough basketball, the vacating hips of young Mr. Massey, Oglethorpe forward, causing several spectacular spills among the wearers of the blue, while the zealousness of Finklestein and Rosenberg, J. P. C. guards, and of Chestnut, Petrel back, caused these three worthies to be deported from the area of activity for four fouls. A recapitulation shows 27 fouls for the game, including three technical ones. J. P. C. committed 14 of them, Oglethorpe thirteen.

Club Starts Scoring.
J. P. C. started the scoring with a field goal by Rosenberg. Bass followed shortly after in like manner. Bass repeated. Massey counted a charity chunk. Sheridan stood a two-pointer and the Petrels stopped five points in the lead. Hirsch made a free shot count. Finklestein annexed two points and Massey sank a free throw. Hirsch then took a field goal and a foul shot and knotted the score 8 all.

J. P. C. drew away with a floor goal by Socloff and Hirsch followed with another successful charity poke. Termination of the half found the Petrels nursing their 8 points, right where Hirsch had produced the only stalemate of the game J. P. C. held.

In the prelude the Oglethorpe freshmen made it unanimous by going down before the J. P. C. Reds 38-25. Rosenberg came from his backboard hole and began the second half just as he had the first with a field goal. Hirsch followed shortly after with another and from then to the end it was all J. P. C. with Hirsch predominating.

The Petrels' first two effective counters of the second half came via the refereary with Chestnut doing the shooting.

Hirsch Gets 17.
The remainder of the J. P. C. counters came through the field goal route. Hirsch getting five more for a high total of 17 points. Socloff making off with two. Klein annexing two and Herman, subbing for Finklestein, one. Oglethorpe's remaining scorers were two floor goals for Bass, one for Sheridan, one for Chestnut and a free shot by Cousins.

The Petrels got five out of 15 free tries and sank seven field goals. They took 16 field goals.

Lineup and Summary.

ST. VALENTINE SENTIMENT EXPRESSED BY CELEBRITIES

New York, February 14.—Several prominent figures in the world of sport recently were surprised when they opened their mail on St. Valentine's day.

Colonel Jake Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, received an ornate valentine, with a Hollywood postmark. It read:

Although I'm far away from you,
I yearn no other's colors,
And will be your own true Babe
For $100,000.

Among the many delivered to Suzanne Lengua was the following:

We've awaited many a tennis ball,
And traveled many a weary mile Together, now, approach we can
It quits. Farewell from C. G. Pyle.

One of those shocking comics of the old school, such as could be purchased for a penny and slipped on teachers' desks on February 14, was among Judge Landis' mail. It was in Swedish, and read:

You wouldn't know a scandal if it bit you.
You're just a white-haired, mean, old out-law.
However, Judge, the magates all will melt.

You surely are the great exonerator.
Not all the Valentines were of an unkindly nature, for many of the boys felt the spirit of kindly old Saint Valentine and responded appropriately.

Insure, Jimmy Maloney, the Boston heavyweight, who looks not unlike a cupid himself, received a handsome letter-center from Bridgeport, Conn., among the lace and pierced arrows of which he read the following tender sentiment:

Dear Jimmy: Be my valentine.
Please do not think I could hate you.
I hope the canvas will be soft.
The night when I eliminate you.
And Chairman Jim Farley of the Tampa, Fla., February 14.—(AP)—Bucky Harris led 15 rookie hurlers out on plant field today for the Senators' first workout of the spring season. The workout lasted only 25 minutes and consisted of tossing the ball around while carpenters worked on reconditioning the clubhouse, following the close of the South Florida fair.

Nick Altrock and Al Schacht, coaches, arrived today, bringing the number of men in camp to 23, including President Clark Griffith, Manager Harris and Trainer Mike Martin. Morning workouts, full time, will be started tomorrow.

New Orleans, February 14.—Spot cotton closed; middling 13.90; good middling 13.70; middling 13.50; stock 645,808.

NEW YORK, February 14.—(AP)—An easier tone developed after an opening advance in the cotton market today. May contracts selling off from 14.18 to 13.88 and 16 points net lower, and closing at 13.90. The general market closed steady at net declines of 10 to 14 points.

The opening was firm at an advance of 14 to 18 points, on buying promoted by relatively firm over-holiday cables from Liverpool, and the passage of the farm bill by the senate after the close of the market last Friday. Demand was supplied around the opening, however, and the market later weakened under realizing and liquidation by recent buyers, combined with considerable local and southern selling.

A less bullish view of prospects for farm legislation, based partly upon belief that if the bill was passed by the house it was likely to be vetoed and partly on the theory that its effects, if it became a law, would be less bullish on cotton than anticipated by buyers of late. Sellers were considered largely responsible for the selling. In addition to this, the report of the census bureau showing domestic consumption of 604,584 bales for January, compared with 605,217 for the previous month, and 582,515 for January last year, seemed rather disappointing.

BUYING SLACKENS DOWN IN COTTON MARKET

By the time the market opened today, the buying had slackened considerably. The market was quiet, with only a few scattered orders. The price of cotton futures was 14.25 for March, 14.20 for May, 14.15 for July, 14.10 for October, and 14.05 for December.

New York, February 14.—(By the Associated Press).—Buying in the bond market today failed to develop any great momentum and price movements were irregular. There was evidence that the large volume of new offerings during the first 40 days of 1926 has satiated, at least temporarily, the unusual investment demand.

The greater interest today was in the industrial division, in which several issues were given good support. Granby Consolidated 7s furnished a feature by scoring a 6-point advance, and there was considerable demand for Liquid Carbonite 6s, Wickwire-Spencer Steel 7s and Dominion Iron and Steel convertible 7s.

Quiet prevailed in the rail group, high-grade issues being the least sought after. The little activity present was in International Great Northern 6s and Peoria & Eastern 4s.

Foreign bonds continued sluggish, particularly those of European origin. Mexican issues, however, displayed moderate strength, and Holland American 7s attracted attention.

Demand for federal government obligations was limited and price movements were mixed. The treasury 4 1/4s, however, gave a good account of themselves.

Approximately $25,000,000 par value in outstanding 6 and 7 per cent bonds of the Interstate Power company are to be retired shortly by virtue of the company's $20,000,000 new issue recently marketed. A new offering of $3,000,000 Agricultural Mortgage bank, Republic of Colombia, guaranteed 20-year 7 per cent sinking fund 4 Kansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida.

COTTON SLUMPS AT NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, February 14.—(AP)—Cotton prices cut a zig-zag line across the market graph today, ending shortly above the lowest point of the day with the line again turning upward. The graph indicated net losses for the day of 14 to 17 points.

The line pointed upward during the opening hour when prices soared 18 to 19 points on the passage by the senate of the McNary-Haugen bill. Here it touched its peak for the day with March showing 14.03; May 14.20 and July 14.17.

Thence it swung downward, influenced by disapp. in the January market, touched its low point of 13.82 on March 13.87 and July 14.02. The close was near this level.

It again pointed upward from this point, moderate covering drawing it across 7 to 9 points square before it turned sharply downward influenced by reaction to selling until prices touched the lowest point of the day, 35 points below the high. Here March closed at 13.87, May 13.85 and July 14.02. The close was near this level.

Exports for the day totaled 37,496 bales.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

4-20-36

UPON ASSUMING CHARGE OF THE GOVERNMENT (MARCH, 1861), ABRAHAM LINCOLN MET WITH HIS CABINET TO DISCUSS WHICH POLICY TO PURSUE IN THE MATTER OF SECESSION AND FORT SUMTER. A MAJORITY FAVORED WITHDRAWING THE GARRISON FROM THE FORT TO GAIN TIME IN WHICH TO PROMOTE A COMPROMISE WITH THE SOUTHERN STATES.

Lincoln's Dilemma.

SECRETARY OF STATE WILLIAM H. SEWARD, WHO HAD BEEN LINCOLN'S CHIEF RIVAL FOR THE REPUBLICAN NOMINATION, THOUGHT THAT THE BEST AND QUICKEST WAY TO RE-UNITED THE NORTH AND SOUTH WOULD BE TO DECLARE WAR AGAINST A FOREIGN NATION SO THAT THE TWO OPPOSING SECTIONS WOULD CAST ASIDE THE SLAVERY DISPUTE TO FACE A COMMON FOE.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate

HE THOUGHT OF WAR WAS HATEFUL TO LINCOLN, BUT THE BREAKING UP OF THE UNION SEEMED TO HIM A GREATER CALAMITY. MEANWHILE, WORD HAD COME FROM MAJOR ANDERSON (MAR. 5) THAT HIS SUPPLIES WERE LOW AND THAT 20,000 MEN WOULD BE NEEDED TO HOLD FORT SUMTER.
